Anderson convicted in Zevallos case

By PAT HAV LUTZ
of the Press-Record

ALTON — After three hours of deliberation on Thursday, a jury of seven men and five women found Don Benny Anderson guilty on two counts of violating interstate commerce in connection with the disruption of the Hope Clinic for Women, Ltd., caused by the kidnapping of Dr. Hector Zevallos and his wife, Rosalie Jean.

U.S. Circuit Court Judge William Beatty set sentencing for Feb. 10 at noon.

Defense Attorney Wayne

Schoeneberg called no defense witnesses, but read selected passages from Anderson's "Epistle" which seemed to instruct jury members to listen to their consciences when delivering the verdict, even though the 44-page document had been written several months before the trial.

"Even without the assistance of any of your fellow jurors — in a criminal trial — you, with your single vote, of not guilty, can nullify, overrule, or invalidate any man-made law involved in a case that, for any reason, you think should be enforced," Schoeneberg read.

The document, written as if God were giving the instructions, also stated, "Any regulation, statute, or law involved in a criminal case being tried by you is unfair, or it infringes upon the defendant's God-given rights of life, liberty or property or constitutional rights, then you must affirm that the offending regulation, statute or law is really no law at all and that the violation of it is no crime at all. For none of my children are bound to obey an unjust law."

Anderson faces 20 years imprisonment and fines of up to $10,000 on each count. Schoeneberg indicated that he will appeal the conviction on the grounds that Anderson was not specifically tried on the violations. He stated that the prosecution had provided a kidnapping case, but had never directly proved that Anderson violated interstate commerce laws.

Schoeneberg also stated that Anderson could not take the stand in his own defense for fear of complications from the testimony if he is tried on kidnapping charges in the future.

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber has indicated that Anderson may be tried on a kidnapping charge, depending on the outcome of the sentencing.

Weber said that if Judge Beatty gives Anderson the maximum sentence of 20 years, Weber will see it as a sign that he wants strict punishment. "If it's 20 (years), it could be he wanted to see 100," Weber said. Then, the county will try Anderson for kidnapping.

If Judge Beatty opts for a lesser sentence, then he will be saying "that's all that should happen to him. Then we probably won't file kidnapping charges," the state's attorney said. Schoeneberg never admitted Anderson's involvement in the abduction, but he stated, "The people who kidnapped Dr. Zevallos and his wife had a sincere, firm, honest belief that abortion is wrong. They honestly believed they were inspired by God and that what they were doing is right."

Found guilty of attempting force or threats to impede interstate commerce and conspiring to do the same, Anderson is being held in the St. Clair County Jail until Feb. 10.

Wife says Anderson was treated unfairly

The trial of Don Benny Anderson was unfair, and his civil rights were violated, according to his wife, Margaret. Mrs. Anderson maintained Thursday in a Press-Record interview that Anderson was "innocent of all charges" put forth by the prosecution and that U.S. District Judge William Beatty suppressed her husband, especially when he refused to allow Anderson to cross-examine the witnesses.

MARGARET ANDERSON

"I don't think it was fair," she stated. "He was suppressed by the judge so many times. He was told that he couldn't cross-examine the witnesses. I guess the judge said that because he was represented by an attorney," she added.

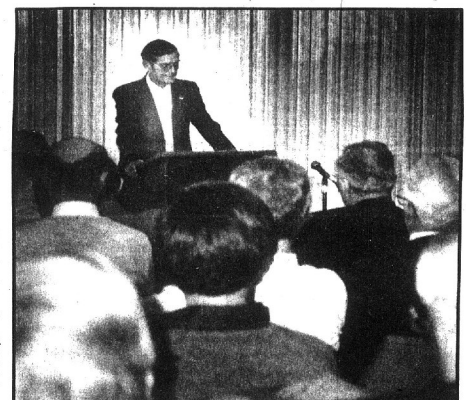

According to Mrs. Anderson, her husband was never proven guilty of violating interstate commerce laws. "He was innocent of their charges. They couldn't get him on kidnapping because he didn't cross state lines," she said. "They had to look real hard to find a charge."

Mrs. Anderson feels that the real issue during the trial was never argued. "The whole thing was about abortion," she stated. "They wouldn't let us bring up anything about Dr. Zevallos' abortion clinic and the picketing that goes on there. The judge asked the group of potential jurors if they were really biased about abortion, but nobody discussed it after that," she stated.

Some of the Andersons' six children were present during the three-day trial and Mrs. Anderson discussed their reaction. "They're devastated. They love their daddy and he loves them," she said. "I sent them to school today to get them away from this. It's just really hard on them," she said.

As her husband faces a sentence of up to 20 years in prison, she said.

THE FUTURE OF STEEL. Buddy Davis, president of the United Steel Workers Union District No. 34, addresses a large group of listeners, many of whom are Granite City Steel employees, at a lecture-debate Thursday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. 15th Brimberry charge

A 15th charge against Thomas R. Brimberry, a former Granite Cityan, was added Thursday. A federal grand jury in St. Louis indicted him for arranging to have items removed from his former mansion here.

He could face five years in prison and a $50,000 fine if convicted of concealing assets.

It is contended that he caused stained-glass windows, light fixtures and chandeliers to be removed from the home at 9112 Parkway Drive in October, and that he caused a large generator and electrical control panel to be taken from the residence in December.

The indictment says these items (estimated elsewhere to exceed $20,000 in value) were concealed at some other location after they were removed from the local home.

Removal of the equipment and fixtures is described as illegal because they now belong to the Securities

Steel officials say all can share blame

It was billed as a lecture-debate, but the participants agreed with each other on most points, particularly one — the future of the United States steel industry looks "bleak."

As Russell Solomon and Buddy Davis spoke Thursday to a capacity group in the Maple Room of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, they made no attempt to hide the harsh facts of the present steel industry.

Solomon, adjunct professor in the School of Science and Engineering and "chief negotiator" for many years at Granite City Steel on the management side, probably has gone round after round with men like Davis, head of the United Steelworkers Union District 34.

Boy, 5, drowns after ice breaks

A 5-year-old boy drowned Saturday afternoon when he apparently ventured out onto an ice-covered lake and fell through into the water at the Holiday Mobile Home Park on State 35, just east of Highway 111.

William Kent Baird II was pronounced dead at 6:13 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 29, 1983, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, following extensive efforts at the scene by members of the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department's rescue team and emergency medical technicians from the Granite City Fire Department.

Efforts to revive the small boy, a kindergarten pupil at Lake School, also were continued by hospital personnel for some time after his arrival at the medical center.

Mrs. Laura Baird, the child's mother, said William had gone out to play about 12:45 p.m. and at 1:30 p.m., she went looking for him when he failed to return to their home at 955 Holiday Mobile Home Park.

After she couldn't find the boy, Mrs. Baird called her husband, William, who was at work in Florissant, Mo., who came home and also started searching for the child.

It was the father who found a green ball and a cap at the edge of the ice on a small lake in the mobile home park and recognized the items as belonging to his son, it was learned.

Mr. Baird took a rowboat and rowed out into the lake. He found William beneath the water about 30 feet from the shore and pulled him into the boat, according to a deputy coroner.

It is believed the lake is between three feet and four feet deep, but may go to a depth of five feet in places. The Baird family resides adjacent to the lake.

At the time of the accident, the surface appeared to be covered with ice to a distance of about 30 feet from the shoreline, where the water is then clear of ice, the deputy coroner said.

The Madison County Sheriff's Office was notified of the mishap at 3:45 p.m. Saturday and a deputy sheriff arrived at the scene at 3:55 p.m., it was reported.

Soon after William was found, the rescue team from Long Lake Fire Department started administering resuscitation and other emergency measures used to revive hypothermic (cold water) victims.

They continued their efforts for nearly 45 minutes. It was learned, until the EMTs took over and transported the child by ambulance to the Granite City hospital.

In addition to his parents, William is survived by two young brothers at home. Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

Unemployment declines

Unemployment in Granite city dipped by more than two percent during December from record high November levels of 21.6 percent, according to the final Bureau of Employment Security figures, to 19.4 percent, according to the preliminary December figures released Saturday.

The figures, however, may be overly optimistic, since actual employment in Granite City increased by only 125 jobs, from 15,700 in November to 15,825 in December, the figures show. The real drop was among those receiving unemployment compensation benefits, which may indicate that some have surpassed their unemployment benefit limits. In November, 4,325 persons were listed as unemployed. That number dropped to 3,800 in December, a decline of more than 500 persons.

The Granite City labor force (employed and unemployed) declined by 400, from 20,025 workers to 19,625 from November to December, the report shows.

Madison County's unemployment rate increased from 15.0 to 15.4 percent in the same period.

SIUE will survive state's fiscal doldrums

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has always been affected by the social and economic climate of the Southwestern Illinois region it serves. Thus, it comes as no surprise that the university is faced with a variety of budgetary problems.

Earl Lazerson, SIUE president, visited the Press-Record Friday and, while his predictions of the future are grim, he believes the university will survive and flourish, despite Governor James Thompson's planned two percent slash of the higher education budget to help offset the state's economic problems.

Amidst the predictions of gloom, SIUE finds itself in a dilemma of sorts. While the university is beginning to change its image and prosper from

DREW KARANDJEFF
President

Q. A lot of people, I understand, have recently turned away from money market funds in favor of investing in a new type of account being offered by banks. Can you tell me a little about this new account, or have I "missed the boat"?

A. No, you certainly haven't "missed the boat"
on the new money-market type account. It came into existence as a result of the passage by Congress of the Garn-St. Germain Act of 1982, recently signed by the president. Basically, the act permits banks to offer an account with deregulated interest rates which will pay a market rate, in many cases, higher than that paid by money market funds. These new accounts also have two other very important advantages. These advantages are not new to banks but do offer to the investor advantages not previously available for money market funds.
First of all, the new accounts are insured by an important plus which money market funds cannot offer. Secondly, the money deposited in the new money market account at your local bank will stay where it will do the most good: in the community.

Mortgages at 11.5 percent interest are now possible

Prospective homebuyers now may secure loans for as low as 11.5 percent, if they are qualified for the terms of the transaction.

With a 30 percent down payment, the buyer will be charged 11.5 percent, or an annual percentage rate of 12.65 percent with a two-year balloon term.

Those who have 20 percent down payment will be charged 11.5 percent or 12.90 annual percentage with the same two year balloon clause.

Mortgage amounts of $30,000 with 11.5 percent will require a monthly payment of $319.92; $40,000 at 11.5 percent yields a monthly payment of $426.57 and for a $50,000 loan at 11.5 percent, the monthly payment will be $533.21.

In comparison, with an 11.5 percent rate on a $30,000 mortgage, the payments would be $325.11 a month;
for $40,000, the payment would be $433.48 and $50,000 would require a payment of

Granite City aldermen are appealing to city department heads to cut the lid on spending even tighter, after the city comptroller predicted February expenses would outstrip revenues by almost a quarter of a million dollars.

City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic estimated the city would be short $500,000 by the end of the fiscal year in April.

In a two-hour finance committee session, preceding last week's council meeting,
City Treasurer Nick Petrillo said he met with bank officials to lay the groundwork for any borrowing the city might have to do. He recommended the council consider borrowing $500,000 in $100,000 portions as needed.

Petrillo estimated interest charges on future tax anticipation warrants to be about nine percent.

Sixth Ward Alderman
Walter Milton, who conducted the finance session, said his committee would return to the council with a number of borrowing suggestions. The city has about $194,000 left in the 19th Street Overpass Fund, but that money must be paid back at that fund, if used for any purpose other than capital expenditures.

The threat of new borrowing for the first time this fiscal year, spurred some aldermen to question financial procedures that eventually are expected to result in debt.

Second Ward Alderman
Fred "Pat" Schuman, called for a pledge by fellow aldermen to back a balanced budget for the next fiscal year, and asked them to avoid "crisis government" situations.

Seventh Ward Alderman
Michael Modrusic, agreed with Schuman. "We'll just have to cut this time," he said, referring to the upcoming 1983-84 budget year.

Second Ward Alderman
Sam Whitmer reminded the council of his previous move to gradually increase property taxes a little each year. "We've got to have people wearing black hats around here to get this city out of this financial crisis," he explained.

12-year term in GC case

Richard Curtis, 28, of Cahokia is to serve 12 years in an Illinois state prison for a Granite City burglary.

Date of the offense was not specified. The charge was filed Oct. 21, 1982, and he submitted a guilty plea the following month. Sentencing took place later.

Circuit Judge Philip Barick presided at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville.

Granite City police said they captured Curtis after he ran from the scene of a break-in at the Western Auto Store, 1502 Twentieth St., at 4:30 a.m. Oct. 21.

He was apprehended in a yard in the 2000 block of Grand Avenue.

Door glass had been broken and a $120 cassette radio from the store was found on a nearby sidewalk.
The man said he needed a gift for "my wife's birthday tomorrow."

An active warrant from the Madison County sheriff's department at that time alleged past delivery of a controlled substance.

to 40 years in prison on both counts of violating interstate commerce, Mrs. Anderson realizes that she may have to find a job to support her children. "I don't have a job," she explained. "If he is imprisoned I'll have to spend the next couple of days trying to figure out what to do. I'll have to find some way to support the kids."

The Andersons intend to appeal the case on the grounds that Anderson's civil rights were violated. According to Mrs. Anderson, her husband kept notes while he was being held awaiting his trial. The notes, written by Anderson and allegedly containing specific dates and times when his civil rights were violated, were taken by officials while he was imprisoned and never returned to him. Mrs. Anderson also maintains that all letters her husband wrote to the press were photocopied. "The judge told us that he would try to get my husband's notes back to him, but we have never heard anything more about them," she stated. "I talked to a lawyer about this because it was an invasion of his privacy. The lawyer was too busy when I talked to him, but I'll call him back again and try to sue the government. He's on this," she added.

Anderson has always wanted to write a book on the injustices he feels he has experienced, his wife says, and may begin work on the book if he is imprisoned. "He has always wanted to write a book like that, about all of their tactics and harassment. He has had many experiences with the judicial system and the FBI, and he really would like to expose them," she said. "The book may discuss abortion as well. Mrs. Anderson says, because her husband feels very strongly that abortion is wrong. "He's very much against abortion—I am too. We think it's murder."

Mrs. Anderson summed up her feelings about her husband's innocence, saying, "He's innocent of all their charges. He's so mild-mannered, a spiritual man. He never mistreats his kids and they love him."

Steel officials

but for two hours, the men were in almost complete agreement.

They focused on the future of the country's large, integrated steel mills, like GCS. There are nine such mills in the U.S. and all of them are hurting. To some extent, medium sized, independent mills also are in trouble, while the smaller specialty "mini-mills" will, the two agreed, survive and continue to show profits.

The middle and larger mills are "all taking a blood bath," Davis said. And just about every person and agency involved in the industry is to blame. "In the state of the steel industry now, and what's been projected for the future, there's just about enough blame to go around," Davis continued.

A big chunk of blame was leveled at imported steel, especially from Japan, the U.S.'s top competitor. In the '50s, imports shared only 2.3 percent of the domestic steel market. In the 1960s, it rose to 9.3 percent; in the '70s it grew to 15.3 percent; in 1981, a record high of 19.1 percent was reached. Davis hit 22 percent in 1982. In the first month of 1983, the figure is 24 percent, Davis said.

Several factors are behind the surge, including the currency exchange and the value of the dollar elsewhere. The government also has a great deal to do with it.

The philosophy of free trade which, Davis said, "does not include the words 'fair trade,'" is one of the major reasons that imports have flooded the market.

Davis went one step further and blamed the Reagan administration. "I think in this country, we have a Reagan-made depression" in the steel industry.

During the Carter Administration, steps were taken to help the steel industry, but Reagan has, thus far, been reluctant to reinstate a committee consisting of those knowledgeable of the steel industry that worked with the previous president's administration. "This industry did, in fact, make a profit as early as 1981," Davis said, but, without cooperative efforts between the government and the industry, the profits have vanished.

Another reason for problems has been the influx of substitute products for steel and the overall decline in steel consumption. The automobile industry has turned to lighter, more energy-efficient vehicles which use less steel and consumers have stopped trading automobiles every few years.

Other industries, like can manufacturing and farm implements, are also depressed. Overall, the factors add up and weigh against the steel industry, which just cannot thrive in the present economic situation, Davis said. He suggested, and Solomon agreed, that the government, the union and the industry must combine efforts and cooperate if the steel industry is to "thrive, prosper and, maybe even, survive."

Solomon provided six suggestions for salvation of the steel industry which covered virtually every facet of the situation.

The steel industry must learn to solve its own labor-relations problems through statesmanlike collective bargaining, he said and argued that "party management" must be utilized to improve labor relations.

"The industry, as a whole, must make a more effective effort to improve its image in the public eye," he said. This includes improved timing of actions, especially those that have an effect, Solomon said.

I believe the federal government should treat the steel industry on the same level of fairness and impartiality as other industries," he said. That government often has treated the steel industry as a "whipping boy."

He suggested that the government establish a federal policy that would permit the industry to obtain funds to modernize and build. That policy should include the elimination of dividend taxes and taxes on savings.

"The industry has proven itself to be a good neighbor in improving the environment, especially air and water." With that in mind, the government should establish a schedule for meeting environmental regulations that the industry can more easily meet.

On a long-term basis, the government should enforce import regulations that promote "fair, free trade," including laws that prohibit "dumping" of imports into the market.

"Fair imports are not the issue. The real question is the issue of imports that violate U.S. trade laws," Solomon said. He explained to the responsive audience, composed of many GCS employees, that the steel industry is sensitive to various elements including capital, energy, labor and market factors, all of which are interrelated.

The capital problem was ranked first among long-range considerations by Solomon because it is so difficult for the industry to obtain money to build and modernize.

While energy consumption has decreased about 15 percent, the industry still relies heavily on coal as a primary source of energy and coal produces a variety of environmental problems. Solomon, former GCS director of quality control, also said that the industry is faced with high employment costs, predicted by some analysts to be the top long-range problem.

The industry spends about $26 an hour in employment costs from salaries to hourly employees up to top executives. The figure also includes fringe benefits, vacation time and pensions.

That figure often is not seen in an accurate light, it was pointed out. The media tends to use the $26-an-hour sum without explaining the elements involved and people then assume it is the average hourly wage paid to steel workers.

With 165,000 steel workers, including management people, presently laid off, employees have been asked to make concessions in order to help the industry. Presently, according to Solomon and Davis, an effort is being made to intensify labor relations. Management appears to be making a concentrated effort to seek opinions of laborers.

While employees of the steel industry work to improve the situation from within, heavy losses continue to mount because of other industry closings. Solomon cited the closing of A.O. Smith because a change was made in the automobile industry from a use of frames to unitized bodies, making the local plant's product obsolete.

"At one time, A.O. Smith was the number one outside customer of Granite City Steel," he said.

Without instituting suggestions provided by Solomon and Davis, more hardship can be expected. If cooperation does not continue, Solomon said, the only beneficiary will be foreign competitors, which have expanded and now include some Third World Countries that do not even need the steel they produce.

Mills are constructed because they provide the country with status, Solomon said. The increase in world-wide mills has caused a surplus of steel, Davis said.

More than the steel industry has suffered, both men agreed. While they optimistically offered suggestions for helping save the industry, and a good part of the country's economy, Solomon summed the situation up by voicing a distant hope.

"We can only hope that the industry is bottoming out and that's just a hope. I see more closings and hardships" on a short-term basis. From a long-term view, there are "many, many problems" as well. But they are not, the two seemed to conclude, beyond being reconciled.

Public being invited to Hospice meeting

The 1983 annual membership meeting of Hospice of Madison County will be open to the public from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Thursday in Paschal Hall on the main floor at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The annual event is a multi-purpose meeting of review the 1982 happenings on both the local and national level. The year will be summarized by Dr. Charles Corr, Dr. Shabbir H. Safdar, Nina Millett, Rosemarie Lindner and Lois Lybarger. Sister Mary Thomas, president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, will make a presentation. The new budget for 1983 and the annual report of the board of directors will be presented by Thomas Holloway.

Randall Irwin, board member and chairman of the nominating committee, feels that the meeting is an important part of this meeting, it is to let the community know it has an opportunity to have a voice in an organization that affects so many people.

At the annual meeting, the membership gives the opportunity to nominate persons to serve on the board of directors for Hospice. The candidates are subject to review by the nominating committee, with evidence of a petition signed by at least 10 percent of the membership, (will require 10 names of members).

Trades Council decries 'non-union' publication

At its January meeting, the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council, AFL-CIO, instructed President Edwin F.J. Reiske to write a letter to Madison County Treasurer Michael Henkhaus objecting to use of a non-union newspaper for publication of the delinquent tax list for the Quad-City area.

Reiske said he sent the letter to Henkhaus, which pointed out that the paper used, the Granite City Journal, is "non union" in that none of the paper's employees are in any union.

Reiske said his letter to Henkhaus also contains the wording, "The council requests that as you conduct the office that we elected you to, that you be a little more considerate, and represent the people."

THE ZIEBART CHALLENGE

Are you buying a new car, truck or van... If so, you will probably be offered a substitute for ZIEBART rust protection.

Unfortunately, the car dealer might even say their system is as good as ZIEBART... This is an old story, but the facts are still the same. No one offers the total protection that ZIEBART does, and we can prove that the type of rustproofing typically offered through car dealers doesn't even come close to the real thing.

If you have any doubts, listen to our challenge... Until Feb. 15th, bring us any imitation Ziebart rustproofing and inspect it with us. If it passes Ziebart rigid specifications, we will reimburse you what you paid for it!

You won't find the car dealer making an offer like that!

If you haven't ordered rustproofing yet, stop by anyway. If we can't convince you that the ZIEBART process is far superior to anything you can get through a car dealer, we'll treat you to a complete interior protection package... FREE... Ask for details.

3 newspapers total 352 years

January 1983 has brought with it two newspaper achievements in the Madison-St. Clair counties region. On Jan. 15, the Alton Telegraph celebrated its 17th birthday. The following day, the Belleville News-Democrat observed its 125th anniversary.

The Telegraph commented, "The past year has been perhaps the most eventful in our history, though we recorded one of the most fateful events in the nation's history in the mid-19th Century when Elijah P. Lovejoy was assassinated while fighting for the cause of press and human freedom."

The owners were referring to their success in retaining control of the Telegraph despite a major financial award to a Granite Cityan.

They described their continuing objective as being "an informed public," adding that people "must know what's going on to be able to serve as intelligent citizens."

The News-Democrat is presenting historical sketches each Sunday to mark its 125th year. It recalls that when it became Belleville's lone English language daily in 1883, after 25 years of competition, there also were four German language newspapers serving its area.

The News-Democrat adds that it has evolved from "a mere political forum serving St. Clair County into a general circulation paper bringing local, national and international news."

While somewhat of a youthful upstart compared to these two venerable publications, the Press-Record traces its history to 1903. The only newspaper printed in Granite City, it is currently in its 81st year of publication.

Devoted exclusively to Granite City, Madison Venice, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell, the Press-Record is setting its sights on similar three-digit milestones in the coming years.

Creativity without money worries

How would you like to "be creative"? How would you like for somebody else to pick up your living costs and your research expenses while you were engaging in your creative efforts?

That is the happy state in which 20 Americans never find themselves, thanks to the generosity of the MacArthur Foundation. Its awards range from $24,000 to $50,000 annually, some for five years and some for life.

Specialties include medieval Mediterranean history, language translations, neurons' effect on illness, energy, African history, biological anthropology, statistics, Latin American history, theater, rare books, art and archaeology, chemistry, mathematics, philosophy, artificial intelligence and physiology. Recipients include poets, writers and filmmakers.

The emphasis on history seems to say that people need to know a lot about their past in order to figure out current and future challenges. Foundation officials stress that their goal is not to get rid of a lot of dollars fast, but to spark "discoveries or other contributions that might otherwise not be made."

The no-strings approach allows the lucky 20 to spend the money and their time any way they wish. The latest list increases to 80 the number of persons aided by the foundation established by insurance tycoon John D. MacArthur.

The sponsors seem to be saying that, if one did not have to worry at all about finances for five or more years, there is almost no limit to the helpful things that could be invented or detected or brought to mind. We hope this is true, although the spur to earn a living and meet regular deadlines also can stimulate creativity.

It seems mighty tempting to just devise a topic and get in touch with the foundation. Unfortunately, none of the recipients has applied and none need do so in the future. The standard operating procedure is: "Don't call us. We may call you."

Our double talk award goes to...

Our "Nobody Does It Better Award" for double talk has to go this week to former President Richard Nixon, whose interview of the Nightline television program brought this gem into thousands of Quad-City area homes late last week.

Nixon, asked if he had considered bombing Cambodia during his administration, responded, "Possibly, in a general sort of way, it may have been indicated."

Some of the best politicians we have covered over the years could take a lesson from that. Twelve words that say absolutely nothing.

Have we forgotten Watergate? We respond, "Possibly, in a general sort of way, it may have been indicated."

Wonder what violets have to say?

Many Quad-Cityans admit to talking to their plants. But they don't know that the day when their plants can talk back may be coming closer.

The animal and plant kingdoms came a step closer Tuesday when scientists for Monsanto announced that they have successfully transferred a genetic trait from a bacterium to a plant cell through a new "recombinant DNA technique."

The method will make it possible "to introduce virtually any gene into plant cells with the ultimate goal of improving crop productivity," said Dr. Ernest Jaworski, director of the Molecular Biology Group at Monsanto. A similar procedure was discovered by a Belgian research group.

The scientists isolated genes which normally make a bacterium resistant to a specific antibiotic. Then, they joined the bacterial genes to a piece of DNA, which ensured that the bacterial genes would function in the plant cells. The combination of the two pieces of DNA, called a chimeric gene, was then inserted into a special soil bacterium which introduces its DNA into plant cells.

Plants with the DNA then can grow on a medium containing enough antibiotics to kill normal plant cells.

Sounds complicated? Well, it is, but the end result is that the genes from one organism were transferred to a completely different organism, where they function normally.

Certainly, such antibiotic resistance to some natural plant killers has broad implications for farmers, but the whole field of "genetic engineering of plants" may move us closer to the day when not only can we talk to our plants, but our plants can talk back to us. Imagine having a talk with your terrarium.

A Press-Record reporter interviewed people in the downtown area and asked their opinion on the high rate of loan defaulters among recipients of the Illinois Guaranteed Loan, which is to help college students financially. They also were asked if they believe defaulters should be prosecuted and the loans made more difficult to obtain.

Cathy Patrick, Granite City
"I'm paying on one. With all the people out of jobs, if they don't have the money, they don't have it. They (those administering the loan program) have a minimum you can pay. Those with money should have to pay like everybody else. If they paid, there wouldn't be as much of a burden on those who are paying them back."

Mike Herron, works at Granite City Steel
"Knowing a couple of them (people who have not started to pay loans back), I think it's a real shame. They fully took advantage of it (the program). If they took a loan in good faith, they should pay it back. It wouldn't help if they were more difficult to get."

Anthony Boyd, works in Granite City
"I went to school myself. I took out a loan and I'm still paying on it. If they borrow money, they should pay it back. I don't think anybody should have a free ride. It's just not right."

Julius Warren, former American Steel employee
"I never went to college, but the way I feel is that if they took a loan, they should have to pay it back. It would help to make them harder to get."

Reagan supports day for hospitalized vets

To the Editor:

Almost 30 million Americans living today are veterans of the Armed Forces of the United States. Their service has had significant influence on America's role in world affairs and has merited the gratitude of their fellow citizens.

The million and a quarter veterans who are admitted each year to Veterans Administration medical centers across the country are among the many deserving of our special awareness and concern. I believe that all of us should seek ways in which to express, in our own communities, our collective appreciation for their service and sacrifice.

I invite all citizens to join me in this annual Salute to Hospitalized Veterans through appropriate ceremonies, activities, and visits to those veterans who are hospitalized in Veterans Administration medical centers, nursing homes, and domiciliaries across the country.

Together, let us show our thanks for their great gift to this nation.

RONALD REAGAN

Writer says jail not supposed to be the Ritz

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to an article on page 12 of the January 27, 1983, issue. The article titled, "Objects to treatment in C.C. jail." First of all, was it written as a joke? If not, it should have been because I sure got a good laugh out of it. Secondly, what does that old guy think "jail" is supposed to be? The finest suite at the Ritz? It's really too bad he had instant coffee and toast, but many people would be glad and thankful to have that!

And, I might add that he should have appreciated the noise. I should have broken up the monotony and helped his boredom. Last, but definitely not least, as far as him stating that POWs aren't treated that badly.... how does he know? It really seems to me that he never has been a prisoner of any kind! Perhaps if he were ever a POW or burdened by abduction or imprisonment of any kind, he would have not complained about jail at all. D. A. MOORE

Supports evangelist's cancer research work

To the Editor:

I feel compelled and conscious-bound to answer, in finish and correct a misquote in the forum letter of Jan. 27 slandering a famous evangelist by calling him a "TV millionaire fanatic who has come up with another scheme to solicit money from people who believe his rankings." Being of a different faith than the preacher mentioned, I feel my letter is not biased.

Knowing this man and having visited his great university, I feel justified in saying that he is not, except pictorially, the hospital, the diagnostic clinic and a research tower unfinished for lack of funds. I know that it was upon leaving the bedside of a cancer-ridden, dying child of five years, that this world-renowned minister of the word, in tears, determined to finish his cancer-research facilities and to equip them with the necessary and most sophisticated techniques in searching for a cure for cancer. But he did not claim he could cure cancer. Feeling how inadequate he is in his approach to solving the scourge of cancer, he again appealed for financial help from his friends (partners) who have always helped him in the past. Perhaps he stepped on a few toes when he asked for a specific donation of $240. Almost everyone donates to a worthy cause. His is a universal concern. God is not poverty-stricken. I've heard the streets of Heaven are paved with gold. He will not deny the needs of his chosen workers. Neither would he refuse "a multimillionaire" the privilege of doing God's work. ANN HEIDENRY

Says physicians admit abortions are premeditated murder

To the Editor:

Some doctors who perform abortion openly admit that human abortion is killing (murder). By admitting to killing these doctors admit to "personhood" of the unborn child.

The U.S. Supreme Court has stated, "If personhood for the unborn can be established, then the court would reverse its decision and outlaw abortion. Had these doctors made these statements to the court before Jan. 22, 1973, human abortion would not have been made legal. The human fetus is a person because the human fetus has the same anatomical parts as the human adult. The state of Illinois says that children will be protected against child abuse. Human abortion is child abuse that results in death. In the Bible in Matthew 24, verse 19, Jesus Christ says that the fetus is a child. In God's eyes abortion is murder. I do not understand how anyone could admit to premeditated murder of a child. SCOTT WORLEY

Ronald L. Parker, 44, of Syracuse, N.Y., formerly of Granite City, died in a hospital there at 9:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 27, 1983, of injuries sustained in a motor vehicle accident, occurring just a short time earlier in Syracuse.

Mr. Parker's auto reportedly was struck in an accident involving a van, whose driver allegedly was intoxicated and against whom charges are pending.

The former resident suffered extensive injuries, including one leg being severed. He was administered CPR and given other medical aid by a St. Louis emergency team at the scene and enroute to the hospital, a family spokesman advised. It is believed the second driver also was injured.

Born in Granite City, Mr. Parker graduated from Granite City High School and Washington University in St. Louis. Both in high school and college, he was active in several sports and was widely known for his baseball abilities.

He had been employed as production manager for Miller Brewing Co. in Syracuse for the past three years.

Mr. Parker formerly worked here for Union Star and Refining Co., and later for Cullum Laboratories, which transferred him to Chicago, where he resided and worked about 10 years.

In New York state, he was a member of the Bellevue Country Club and was on the board of directors of Syracuse Area Junior Achievement. He also held membership in the Miller Activity Club and the Management Association of Central New York.

Mr. Parker was preceded in death by his father, C. O. Parker of Granite City, who died in June, 1970.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Frank Parker; two children, Susan Parker and Jay Parker, both at home; four stepsons, David and John Langlois, at home, and Dan and George Langlois, both of Chicago; his mother, Mrs. Ruby (Parker) Eannarino of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a brother, Granite City Police Patrolman Jeff Parker.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 2, at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 2101 Cleveland Blvd., with the Rev. Robert Baumann officiating. Burial will be in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Visitation will be from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. today and from 2 until 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday at Davis Funeral Home, 211 Street and Cleveland Boulevard.

Expressions of sympathy may take the form of memorials to WAVES, a volunteer emergency service agency in Syracuse, or the Fulton YMCA in Fulton, N.Y., family members said.

GC budget schedule set

Granite City's finance committee chairman, Walter Milton, a Sixth Ward alderman, has announced that the budget process will be getting underway for the 1983-84 budget year.

The process, which "should have already started," but will not get underway until February, he explained.

Budget forms will be distributed to all department heads, beginning Feb. 14. Department heads will have until mid-March to submit their proposed budgets to the finance committee. Final budget reviews by the department heads will begin March 21.

On April 5, the budget will be reviewed by the entire council.

"If it all goes well, the budget ordinance should be ready for the first (council) reading on April 26," Milton stated.

Last year, the budget was not approved until July 28. The city's new fiscal year starts May 1.

Burglary victim slashed, woman charged

While chasing a woman who had broken into her home at 5230 E. 23rd St., Barbara Payne, 40, was slashed on the throat with a knife when she caught up with the intruder at 9:20 p.m. Thursday.

The suspect fled but was captured by Granite City Police. A man companion was sought.

Accompanied by a woman friend, Barbara Payne had approached her home and noted that the living room light was on and the front door had opened slightly and then closed. A living room window shade moved.

Asking her friend to remain at an auto, Barbara Payne entered and saw a man and woman walk from a bedroom to the living room and then the kitchen. The pair noticed her and unsuccessfully tried to leave through a rear door.

The intruders brushed past her, left through the front door, and ran east on E. 23rd and then north on Henry Street.

After telling her friend to call police, the resident gave pursuit on foot.

The woman intruder slashed and entered the 2600 block alley between E. 23rd and Lincoln Avenue.

The burglary victim approached and grabbed the other woman by her jacket but then was cut on the throat with a knife whose blade was then to four inches long officers were told.

When she refused to let go of the jacket, the fleeing man was called to the scene and drew back his arm as if to strike the wounded woman. The victim let go and the pair ran away.

All police cars had been alerted, and a woman suspect was taken into custody within a few minutes. She identified herself as Rebecca A. Nolen and was held overnight at the police building.

The throat wound was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and the victim cooperated with police as they begun to assemble information. Two police detectives were called to duty to expand the investigation.

The man who escaped was described as 5-8 tall, weighing 150 pounds, with dark curly hair.

It was determined that the residence was entered by prying the front door.

A front bedroom was ransacked, with the drawers removed from dressers. Contents of a jewelry box were dumped onto a bed.

Rebecca Nolen, 19, was charged Friday with residential burglary and aggravated battery.

Initial bonds were set at $75,000 on the burglary allegation and $40,000 on aggravated battery, and she was transferred at 7:30 a.m. Saturday to the Madison County Jail.

Authorities listed Rebecca Nolen's address as unknown.

No one else has been apprehended and charged in the case at this time.

Last chance to file for candidates today

Thomas Scaturro, superintendent of streets in Venice, is the latest entry in the lineup of candidates for the Venice Park District Board April 12 election. All office holders will be elected.

Three Ward candidates are Philip Daniloff, Madison, Venice and Ponton Beach must file by this afternoon to qualify for the upcoming race.

Scaturro filed for the six-year term opening on the Venice Park District Board of Commissioners. Also competing for that seat is incumbent Earl Hogan.

For the shorter four-year term, had no challengers for that spot as late as this morning.

In the Granite City Park District race, four candidates have filed their petitions for two six-year terms. The incumbents are John "Jeff" Worthen and newcomers Gary Grandier, former director of recreation for Granite City, and Augustus and Jerry Bristol, a husband and wife team.

Incumbents Barry Loman and Richard Reinhardt had not filed by this morning, although they are expected to run for six and two-year terms, respectively.

Nancy Sanders, former park district employee, picked up petitions, expressing an interest in the sole two-year term opening, according to Frank Raa, board secretary.

Madison aldermanic candidates who will run on the Citizens' Progressive Party slate are: incumbent Paul Ashford, First Ward; Robert Grieve, Second Ward; incumbent William Gasholtz, Third Ward; and incumbent Donald Garrett, Fourth Ward.

Madison aldermanic candidates who filed as independents under separate filing regulations last month, are: Alfred Endicot, and Frank Marsala, First Ward; Thomas George and James Riskovsky, Second Ward; and Philip Daniloff, "Mick" Strange, Third Ward.

Venice aldermanic candidates are: incumbent Philip Daniloff, First Ward; and challenger William Johnson, First Ward; incumbent

George Mangiaracino and new opponent Richard King, Second Ward; incumbent George Lewis, Third Ward; and incumbent Victor Valentine Sr. and challenger Samuel Hill, Fourth Ward.

In Ponton Beach, incumbents have filed their petitions under the Continued Village Improvement banner. Those candidates are Paul Bennett for president; Mary Warren for village clerk and filing for their current trustee seats are Glen Wilburn, Loren Madison and Keith Biggs.

According to Mrs. Warren, Don Watson is the only other candidate to pick up a petition for president and was expected to file by Monday's deadline.

In the meantime, the university could make students feel the larger share of the burden." But in the past two years, students have paid 28 percent more in tuition and fees and the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) has proposed an additional 10 percent. The chances of raising tuition any more than that is "miniscule" and would not help much, in Lazerson's opinion.

Giving higher education a "bigger slice of the pie" from the state budget is a possibility, but one which Lazerson described as "inhuman," considering the high unemployment rate in the state and state programs to help those in need. An alternative, he said, is to "increase the revenue base for all human services."

Ironically, at the cost of attending SUE has increased, enrollment has leveled off and it appears that more students will be attending in the future. Students, however, will tend to be older as people return to college to further their careers, Lazerson predicted.

Providing for the older student means that SUE will have to offer different services. At the same time, the university is changing. With the Illinois Board of Higher Education and an experimental theater, SUE is expanding during a particularly difficult period for higher education.

As the two buildings open in 1983, SUE will see a deferment in purchases in other areas, such as purchases for the science programs and the library.

While 1983 will see SUE tightening its belt, fiscal year 1984 is most crucial, Lazerson said. Appropriately, the Illinois Board of Higher Education recommended $1.36 billion budget for higher education in 1984 will greatly help, in his opinion.

Warriors defeat Mascoutah, win third of season

By MICHAEL BARTELS
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — In the middle of the third quarter Saturday night at Granite City South high school, the Indians had just fought back from a seven-point halftime deficit to take the lead for the first time since the game began. Mascoutah coach Roger Thouvenin jumped up from the bench and yelled something to his players. The referee walked up to him and called a bench technical.

According to a Mascoutah fan, Thouvenin yelled "Seventy-five" to his players, the name of the Mascoutah full-court zone press. The referee misunderstood the yell and called the tech.

"That was the difference in the game right there," Thouvenin said after the game. "We lost our composure." "In the state of Illinois, no one sits on the bench," he continued. "If they do they don't stay long." Thouvenin said if he sat at a game cross-legged and didn't get up, the school board would call a special session and fire him immediately.

Even though the Mascoutah Indians fell to the South Warriors, 66-47, the score is far from indicative of the type of game it was. At the end of the third quarter, the Indians were only down by five, and held a slim one-point lead in the middle of the period.

The South Warriors started out the game well. The full-court pressure put on by the three cat-quick South guards caught Mascoutah off guard.

The Warriors took control early, outscoring the Indians 12-2 in the opening minutes, forcing three quick turnovers off the press, and easily utilizing the mismatch created in the middle by the presence of 6-foot-8-inch junior center Jim Hillmer.

Hillmer, who stands eight inches taller than the tallest man on the Mascoutah squad, dominated the game inside early, scoring eight points in the early minutes and intimidating the Mascoutah offense inside. South walked off the floor at the end of the first quarter with a 14-4 lead.

In the second period, Mascoutah made some adjustments that began to bring them back into the game. The Indians outscored the Warriors by three and left the floor at the half, trailing by only seven, 32-25.

Mascoutah came out on the attack in the third quarter, outscoring South, 6-0 in the opening minutes of play, bringing Mascoutah within one, the tightest margin since the opening tip was won by South.

With just over four minutes to play in the third stanza, Mascoutah stole the ball at mid-court and scored, giving them their first lead of the game.

As Mascoutah began to retreat down the floor, switching to defense, the controversial technical call on Thouvenin was made.

South took full advantage of the call, sinking both free throws and scoring off of the awarded possession. The Warrior lead, which had turned into a deficit, returned to three.

After trading baskets for about two minutes, the Warriors pulled away from Mascoutah, scoring two quick layups off the press. At the end of the third period, the South Warriors led, 46-41.

In that crucial third period, South used the free throw line to maintain and build their lead, scoring six of their 14 points from the charity stripe.

The fourth quarter became a frustrating experience for the Mascoutah quintet as they could do little right.

In the first two minutes of the last period, the Warriors extended their lead to nine, 50-41. It was then that Moeller fouled out of the game. After substituting for Moeller, Thouvenin asked for a time-out but was refused by the official. South was at the free throw line shooting the first end of a bonus situation. South missed the free toss, grabbed their own rebound and scored.

Granite South Warriors

The official that had not made the call believed his partner was wrong in refusing the time-out. He said that if a player had not been substituted for the player that had fouled out, a time-out could not be awarded. But since coach Thouvenin had already substituted, he should have been given the requested break.

With the Warrior swollen to 11, Mascoutah began to make more and more mistakes, turning the ball over often, particularly in the last few minutes. The Warrior lead continued to grow, eventually ending the game with a last second shot that fell. The Warriors collected their third victory of the season, 66-47.

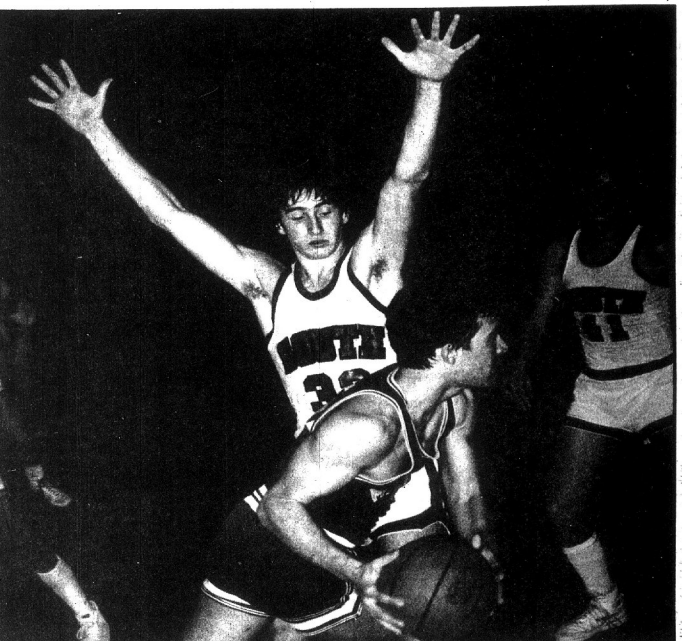

"The thing that really made the difference was the 2-3 zone, coach Deterding said. 'We play with a great deal of intensity on defense.'

Deterding feels that the intensity the Warriors play with on defense creates a certain degree of impatience on offense. 'They haven't learned yet when to go and when not to,' he said. 'When we worked the ball we got good shots.' 'We just had better talent,' he said. 'At the end it showed.'

Pat Linhart came off the bench to lead the Warriors with 18 points, hitting four-of-four from the free throw line. Paul Macios also has 18 for the victors. Trent Moeller led the Indians with 18.

O'Fallon holds off Steeler cagers; wins 58-59

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — O'Fallon thrived by the low percentage 20-foot jump shot, but the Panthers almost died by the lay-up.

O'Fallon used the jump shot to take a 15-point lead against Granite City North in the fourth quarter. However, the Panthers got complacent, and settled with a 39-36 victory over the Steelers Saturday in a non-conference basketball game.

"We relaxed too much when we got our 15-point lead, Granite City North saw they had a chance to win, and they almost pulled it off," O'Fallon coach Dave Shannahan said.

North, which lost to O'Fallon 71-49 in their first meeting at the Mater Dei Holiday Tournament, found an entirely different situation the second time around.

In that first meeting, the Steelers had ball handling problems against the Panthers because guards Brian Levin and Sam Tate had played in only their second games of the season. The two guards handled the ball much better Saturday and helped to keep North going.

Granite North Steelers

"We handled their pressure much better this time than the first time because of the play of our guards," North coach Bill Ohlendorf said.

The only time the North offense faltered was in the second quarter. Those mistakes kept North from upsetting the 13-5 Panthers.

For the first eight minutes, North kept up with the hot Panther outside game and the two teams were tied at the end of the quarter. However, North's offense became cold in the second quarter.

O'Fallon outscored North 16-7 in the second quarter. Once again the Panthers were hot from outside, but Ohlendorf thought North's offense was more at fault than the defense.

"It wasn't the defense, because they scored 16 points again, just like both of us did in the first quarter. However, we didn't score and we had to go to the other end all the time," Ohlendorf said.

O'Fallon gradually built a 15-point lead through the third quarter. Alan Scott's three point play put O'Fallon ahead 52-37 with 7:38 to go in the game. Incidentally, that was Scott's first free throw in a month.

However, the Steelers went to a full court press and got themselves back in the game quickly. Two free throws by Steve Tritschuh, a three-point play by Jeff Gray and a basket by Levin cut the score to seven.

As far as Shannahan was concerned, the momentum went to North when Tritschuh drove in from the left side, shot off balance, and made a layup with 6:03 left to cut the lead to five.

"That shot seemed to give North a lift," Shannahan said.

That was an understatement. North's full court pressure caused O'Fallon to commit a 10-second violation, and Tate rebounded with a basket.

Scott made one of two free throws, but Tritschuh came back with a basket to cut the lead to four.

O'Fallon missed four inside shots, and Scott Cant cut the margin to two. O'Fallon's Jon Dickinson fouled Tritschuh, and the forward made two free throws to tie the game.

However, North wasn't quite able to take the lead. After O'Fallon's Scott Hesse and Tritschuh traded baskets, Karl Huels scored to put O'Fallon ahead by two. Gray was fouled by Huels, but he only made the first free throw in the bonus.

Hesse missed a jump shot, but North was unable to do anything with it. The Steelers called time out with 1:19 left, but a second later, a pass from Tate bounced at Gray's feet, and North lost the ball.

Tritschuh committed his fifth foul, and Rich Leonard made one of two free throws with 52 seconds left. Levin fouled Leonard with 25 seconds left, and again, Leonard only made one of two free throws. O'Fallon led 59-56 at that point.

After North got the ball, Ohlendorf called timeout with 14 seconds left. O'Fallon, not wanting the Steelers to go to the foul line, let Levin make a jumper with 10 second left. O'Fallon let the clock run out.

Ohlendorf agreed with Shannahan about O'Fallon relaxing early in the quarter, but he was still pleased about North's comeback.

"They relaxed a bit, so we decided to go to the press for the first time. We got a couple of big turnovers and we got back in there," Ohlendorf said.

"Our team never gives up," Ohlendorf said. "They've played hard in every game, and they have made great strides since the start of the season. Our boys showed a lot of composure in the fourth quarter."

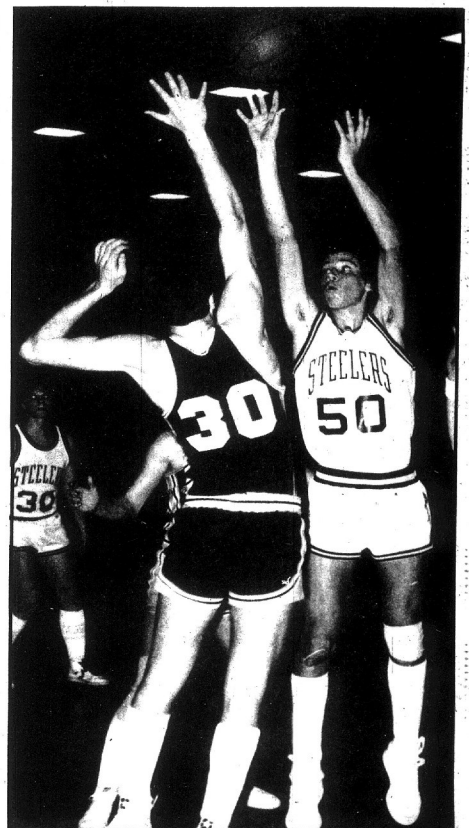

Tritschuh led the Steelers with 22 points. Gray scored 14 points, and Levin added 12 points. Hesse led O'Fallon with 18 points, and Huels added 12 points for O'Fallon.

North, 2-16 this season, plays a tough Belleville East team at Belleville Friday.

Quincy ND dazzles to 78-57 win over Steelers

By MICHAEL BARTELS
of the Press-Record

Before the officials took the floor Friday at North, the fans were treated to a preview of what was going to happen to the Steelers as the players for Quincy Notre Dame strutted their stuff with a dunk show. Six of the 12 players on the squad could throw down a stuff, several using a variety of styles.

The fifth ranked (Class A) Raiders outsize and outclassed the Steelers, storming to an easy win, 78-57.

The Steelers, whose only semblance of size is sophomore 6-foot-4 center Scott Cant, met three men that size or bigger in the 6-foot-7-inch senior center Dan McCaughy, 6-foot-6-inch senior forward Greg Reis and 6-foot-5-inch senior forward Kevin Meyer.

Notre Dame opened up the game with full court pressure, trapping in the corners. Surprisingly that did not bother North in the least. They broke the press easily and forced the Quincy team to drop it in the first quarter.

Even though the press was ineffective, the size advantage possessed by the Raiders was.

In the first quarter, Quincy attacked from two directions: inside and outside. The inside attack was led by all three big men and the outside attack was spearheaded by senior guard and cousin of the center, Jeff McCaughy.

At the end of the first quarter, Quincy sported a nine-point lead, 23-14.

The Steelers were playing good defense, all things considered, but seemed to be trying to outrun the Quincy big men down the court. Consequently, the North defense was self-inflicted.

In the second quarter, Cant picked up a quick foulout putting him in trouble with three. Because of the lack of depth and size on the Steeler squad, Cant played out the half, and did so successfully, not picking up his fourth foul.

At the half, the Steelers trailed 41-29. Cant, Sam Tate and Steve Tritschuh all had four points for North.

The effectiveness of the big men for Notre Dame can be easily seen with half-time scoring. The three giants scored a total of 31 points in the first half. McCaughy hit for 11 and Meyer and Whitaker hit for 10 apiece.

In the second half, the Steelers could not sizably cut into the Notre Dame lead as the Raiders began to pull away. The last shot of the third quarter may have said it all. Reis threw up a prayer for forty feet and it hit nothing but net. The Raiders led 61-29.

In the fourth period, the Steelers fought as though maybe they have a bright future ahead of them. As substitutes took the floor for both teams, the Steelers showed at least even talent with Notre Dame.

Although the season may be frustrating for coach Bill Ohlendorf and his Steelers, he feels more optimistic about the future, and the future is being built with the invaluable help from this team's squad.

"The young ones are coming along," he said after the game. The players on this year's team are helping his future team now. "They may not be the best basketball players in the world, but they're leaders. They're great examples to follow. They play up to their given talent."

Steve Tritschuh led the Steelers on the night with 14 points. Cant and Jeff Gray contributed 12 apiece.

Kevin Meyer led the Raiders with 16 and senior center McCaughy added 15. In the junior varsity game the Steelers held a last-minute rally to upset the Raiders 52-48.

Warrior grapplers trail Quincy; edge McCluer

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Saturday's quadrangular wrestling match at Granite City South ended much the same way many of the Warrior matches have this year: The older, experienced wrestlers winning, while the younger, less experienced grapplers picked up some important mat lessons. The Warrior mat lineup this year features both extremes: the heady, seasoned grapplers and the younger, unseasoned wrestlers. More often than not, that's a good combination for continued success — an opportunity for inexperienced to learn from the experienced.

The same is true this year at the Warrior wrestling camp, but between the two talent extremes is a void of middle experience.

That has been the plight of the Warrior grappler squad this season.

Despite the Warrior shortcomings this season, they managed a second place finish in the quad meet with 88 points, behind Quincy Notre Dame with 92.

132. McCluer North of St. Louis finished third with 71 points, edging out Columbia Hickman with 69.

When it was all over, the Warriors exited the competition with four champions. Sean McGovern, wrestling 112 pounds, picked up a forfeit against Quincy, but then went on to defeat his Hickman opponent 22-2 and then pinned his Columbia opponent in 1:35.

Then came the Warrior big men. Wrestling at 155 pounds, South's Mark Dowdy decided his Quincy opponent 3-0 in his opening match and then picked up a pin in each of his remaining matches against Hickman and McCluer.

Jon Frangoulis, South's winningest grappler, also joined the championship ranks during the weekend. Frangoulis, wrestling 167 pounds, defeated his Quincy opponent 30-18 in the opener, and then, like Dowdy, pinned each of his remaining opponents.

Frangoulis pinned his Hickman opponent in 1:25, then pulled off a "sub 60" performance against his McCluer North, pinning him in 57 seconds.

The final Warrior grappler of the afternoon to go undefeated was heavyweight Paul Hitchcock.

Hitchcock, 23-1, defeated Quincy opponent 8-2, then picked two forfeits in his remaining matches.

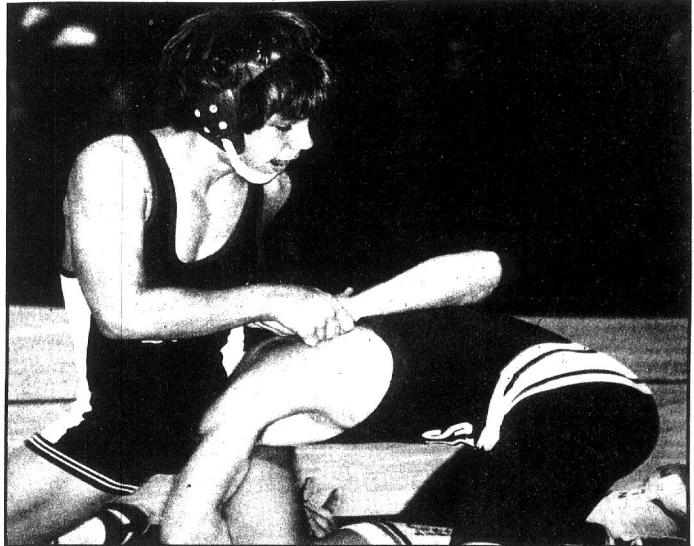

Fine wrestling action, however, was not restricted to the champions. South's little, big man, Jeff Cotter turned in a good performance against a Columbia grappler. Cotter, a sophomore, lost to the Columbia wrestler 5-3, but looks has all the makings of a future great.

Despite the efforts of South's champions, Quincy edged the Warriors in the first pairing 32-23. South's scores improved, however, against McCluer and Hickman as the Warriors defeated their St. Louis opponent 36-29 and Columbia 29-25 to secure its second place finish.

In other mat action, Quincy bombed McCluer 51-12 and manhandled Hickman 49-15.

For the battle of third place, McCluer edged Hickman 30-29.

The Warriors are in action this Thursday, Feb. 3, against cross-town rival Granite City North. Wrestling action begins at 6:30 p.m. at South.

High pressure defense leads Trojans past Knights

By JEFF WILSON
for the Press-Record

Pressure. Pressure. Billy Joel sings about it. Analysis reveals it. And the Madison Trojans apply it.

Just ask the Triad Knights. Triad got a taste of Madison's pressure game Saturday night, and in games of the run-and-gun variety the Knights seldom do better than to get out of the pressure.

Madison's pressure defense was the difference in the game at Triad when the Trojans put it on the Knights in the final 10 minutes, outscoring them 24-6, and coasting to a 60-43 victory Saturday night.

In the opening quarter Madison struggled as it tried to get the pressure started with some poor results. In the second and most of the third quarter, the Trojans refined its offense. Then, in the final 10 minutes, that offense kicked into gear spelling pressure for Madison. For Triad it spelled defeat.

Triad don't put right pressure on the team," Madison Coach Larry Graham said after his Trojans raised their record to 16-3. "We like to put it on, take it off. Put it on, take it off."

Triad battled back twice from sizeable deficits, but in the meantime the physical aspect of the game was taking its toll on the Knights. In what was probably the most physical Triad game of the year, referees whistled 35 fouls Saturday night.

Early in the third quarter, Triad's most physical one-two punch, seniors Steve Brown and Pat McMillin, had four fouls apiece. With Jim Hall at the free throw line and 2:31 left in the third quarter Triad Coach Rich Mason elected to pull Brown and McMillin, rather than changing a foul in the closing minutes of the quarter.

"I thought we could buy some time then and Steve and Pat could start out fourth quarter, but we didn't do the job," Mason said. Hall hit two free throws and then stole the ball from Madison, raced upcourt and layed in the bucket to bring Triad within one, 36-35. But in such a physical game, with Triad's two most physical players on the bench, and 6-5 Madison forward Keith Wyatt and 6-4 Terry Hamilton on the floor, there was little to stop Madison from pulling farther ahead.

"We didn't keep our composure all the way through the ballgame," Mason said. "But we learned some things tonight."

"I think the difference was the pressure," Graham said. "Getting them to play our style of game."

Steeler wrestling: Forty victories and counting

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

CAHOKIA — Twenty-two, one to go. Granite City North's wrestling team only needs one more victory to ensure its second straight undefeated season after defeating Roxana and Cahokia in a double dual match Saturday.

The Steelers demolished Roxana 51-12 and Cahokia 51-9. North, which has won 40 straight dual matches since the start of the 1981-82 season, has only one obstacle to making it 41 straight: Granite City South. The Warriors entertain North Thursday in what could be the final dual meet between the two schools.

Walt Whitaker, North's wrestling coach expected the Steelers to have a difficult time against both Roxana and Cahokia, two of the better wrestling teams in the area this season.

The Steelers made a cakewalk out of Saturday's matches. "I thought it was going to be tough for to beat both team, but the kids handled them very well. The kids went out there and did the job," Whitaker said.

The epitome of North's effort against both the Shells and Comanches was heavyweight John Kramer. The senior had his problems going one round earlier in the year, but now he is going two or three rounds — and winning.

Kramer started Saturday's action by pinning Cahokia's Vogie Guthrie in 2:40 and completed the sweep by pinning Roxana's Jeff Schram in 5:48 in the day's most exciting match.

Kramer picked a near pin in the early moments of the match to set the pace of his match. Prior to the end of the match, Kramer accumulated a 17-7 lead on points.

"He really looked good. If he starts winning a continues winning, that's going to be a big plus for us in the regionals," Whitaker said.

Kramer, who played second fiddle to Dave Owens last year, had a lot to learn this season. "He's going three periods now instead of going one period. It's hard for big guy like him to go three rounds. I'm not saying he's out of shape, but you have to work harder when you're that big, and it's harder for him to go three rounds."

Kramer wasn't the only Steeler picking up critical victories. Greg Nemeth, the Steelers' 105 pounder, defeated Cahokia's highly regarded Kevin Byrd 5-0. Nemeth took advantage of two stalling penalties against Byrd along with an escape and takedown to shutout Byrd. Nemeth also defeated Roxana's Don Carter 6-2.

At 185, North's John Morris wrestled Cahokia's Vogie Taylor for the third time this season and won again. Morris defeated Taylor 3-1 with a takedown and an escape.

Meanwhile, Roxana's Rob Milazzo increased his record to 20-0 by pinning North's Brian Hayes in 47 seconds and gaining a forfeit against Cahokia. Last Tuesday, Milazzo defeated Civic Memorial's Kip Kristoff 10-3 before 2,000 people at Bethalto.

Kristoff, who won the 98 pound Class AA title as a freshman last year, wrestled at 119 during the season but will wrestle at 112 in the regionals.

Otherwise, North had few problems in the other matches against either Roxana or Cahokia.

At 98, senior Colin Davis pinned the Shell's Brad Eller in 3:28 and won a 17-2 major decision over Cahokia's Brian Patterson.

North's Ken Patterson defeated Roxana's Mike Donelson 8-2 and Cahokia's Martin Books 14-6 for two wins at 138.

Monte Kessler picked up two pins at 145. He stopped the Shells' Gary Gramlet in 4:32 and Cahokia's Jack Sullivan in 4:42.

At 155, Bruce Widel stayed undefeated by pinning Glenn Hubbard of Roxana in 32 seconds and Charlie Williams of Cahokia in 5:10.

Bill Zimmer pinned Cahokia's Jamie Nieman in 4:44 and won a 10-1 decision over Roxana's Brian Spencer.

Rod Unger also stayed undefeated by pinning Roxana's Chris Paycine in 2:59 and receiving a forfeit.

In the 112 matches, Brent McKenney scored a 21-9 major decision over Roxana's Jeff Hooper but lost to Cahokia's Vince Sharkey 10-9.

Morris pinned Roxana's Scott Sladen in 3:18, and Hayes picked up a forfeit at 119.

At 132, Mark Whitaker was pinned by Roxana's Tim West in 3:30 and by Cahokia's Alan Roeder in 3:01.

"I thought the outcome of the Roxana match would be decided in the upper weights, but we got a pretty good lead in the first round of the meet," Whitaker said.

North's performance against both Roxana and Cahokia makes the Steelers the favorite to win the Collinsville Regional Feb. 11-12.

"I would think we would be the favorites with such convincing wins today," Whitaker said. "The way our kids wrestled today makes me happy because they worked hard today. They deserved what they're getting so far."

Ailing Trojans gasp to 54-46 win over South

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The flu bug hit the Madison Trojans last week, but the Trojans managed to gather enough energy to defeat Granite City South 54-46 Thursday in a non-conference girls basketball game.

The flu found the Trojanettes a week earlier, but by Thursday, the flu spread through the entire team, included coach Carol Cole.

"The girls were bringing rolls of toilet paper out of the restroom to practice because they had to blow their noses so often. Everyone was suffering last week," Cole said.

Throughout the game, the Trojanettes showed the signs of an ill team. Their press wasn't nearly as fast or effective as usual. They reached over the Warrior rebounders instead of getting in position.

"All of the girls were coughing at halftime. It was so bad that I couldn't say anything to them," Cole said.

Between the huffing, puffing and coughing, the Trojanettes managed to find eight minutes to play a good basketball game.

South taking advantage of the inside game, leaped to a 16-13 first quarter lead. In fact, South equaled or surpassed the Trojans' effort in the second half. However, the Warriors learned the hard way it takes 32 minutes of play to win against a team with Madison's speed.

The Trojanettes forgot they were sick in the second quarter and outscored South 12-2 in the first 3:30 of that quarter to turn a three-point deficit to a seven-point lead.

South tried to go up the middle against Madison's pressure and failed. Madison forced the turnovers and ran down the floor for easy baskets.

Stephanie Walker, Angie Shipp, and Angelette Dandridge combined for 16 of Madison's 18 points that quarter.

Madison's defense was working so well that South didn't make a single field goal try in the quarter. All six of South's second quarter points came from free throws. At halftime, the Trojanettes led 31-22.

Madison paid for its effort at halftime with its coughing spell, and South was able to do what it wanted for the rest of the game.

"Other than the leadwin in the second quarter, the rest of the game was pretty evenly played," South coach Gary Morgan said. "We just made more mental mistakes in the second quarter, and we couldn't go through their press."

After halftime, Madison never came close to equaling its second quarter intensity.

"We were pooped," Cole said. "We weren't hustling because we couldn't hustle. There was a lot of standing around and fouling instead of moving."

Indeed, the Warriors played a strong game the second half. South outscored Madison 24-23 in the final 16 minutes. "It was just happy that we won," Cole said.

"I made Madison go over our backs for the rebounds, and when we got them in foul trouble, we were able to go inside. After the girls got behind, they came back with a lot of composure and played a good game," Morgan said.

It was a rough game both ways. Madison was called for 22 fouls and South was called for 20 fouls. South took better advantage of its foul shots by making 16 of 23 free throw attempts as compared to Madison's 10 of 21.

Slipp led Madison with 17 points, RedGina Banks scored 12 points and Walker added 11 for the Trojanettes.

Skinner led South with 21 points, including going 9-12 at the free throw line, and Kathy Juhasz added 11 points.

Madison plays Roosevelt of St. Louis in a unit of doubleheader at Madison. The girls play at 6:30 p.m., and the boys play at 8 p.m.

South also plays at home Tuesday against Belleville Althoff in a Gateway East Conference game.

'Home crowd' atmosphere leads B-Hill to victory

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

VENICE — The Venice Red Devils were strangers in their home town. Bunker Hill brought 300 of their fans on five buses to Venice Friday night when the Red Devils took on undefeated Bunker Hill and gave the home court advantage to their visiting team.

With the crowd on Bunker Hill's side, it was only natural the Minutemen would play like they were at home. Bunker Hill outshined and outscored the Red Devils and stayed undefeated with a 68-60 win.

After the game, a reporter told Venice coach Ken Perkins that the Red Devils would get them at home next time.

All Perkins could must must was a short-lived laugh.

Although Bunker Hill's fans did a lot to intimidate the Minutemen did their own intimidating.

Through the first four minutes, the team kept up with each other, but Bunker Hill's full court zone trap defense forced three turnovers in the next three minutes and jumped to a 15-8 lead. The Red Devils weren't the same after that.

Bunker Hill coach Jim Hlaska said, "We let them have three or four easy lay-ups early while we were getting used to their quickness, but from that point on, we adjusted to their speed well. Our defense got us a lot of turnovers."

Venice eventually adjusted to the defense, but the Red Devils couldn't quite handle the Minutemen on the boards. For the game, the Minutemen turned 10 offensive rebounds on the boards into baskets.

"It's got to be the offensive boards that hurt us the most," Perkins said. The main reason why Bunker Hill was dominant on the boards was because Keith Marchbanks wasn't in the game. His absence left a considerable gap in Venice's board play.

"The lack of rebounding really hurt. We were able to stop them on one side of the basket, but they were able to go around from the other side top get the rebounds. If Marchbanks was in there, we probably could have closed both sides," Perkins said.

Venice Red Devils

Marchbanks was one of two Venice players suspended last week. Perkins isn't sure when the two players will be reinstated in the line-up.

Bunker Hill, a taller team than the Red Devils, took advantage of the absence. Center Wally Komnick, forwards Gant Harper, and reserve Mark Ramsey made life miserable for the Red Devils inside with their rebounding. The three combined for 29 points for the game.

The Minutemen who probably hurt Venice the most though was guard Darral Rucker, who ended up with 21 points for the game. Rucker was all over the court giving the Red Devils fits both on offense and defense.

His steals defensively turned into fast breaks on offense.

"He's an excellent player, and he makes a lot of good moves," Perkins said.

Bunker Hill led by 10 at halftime, thanks to the turnovers and rebounding and stretched the lead to 13 at the end of three quarters.

Perkins credited Bunker Hill for their defense, but he noted the Red Devils made several mistakes of their own to give the Minutemen an advantage.

"We had some problems with our ball handling which allowed them to make some turnovers. After Bunker Hill would steal the ball, we would try to steal the ball. You can't steal the ball against a team like the. They were then going down the court 3 on zero, and we got burnt. Rucker's tough," Perkins said.

Venice pulled with six points with 3:28 left when William Watts scored, but Bunker Hill pulled the game out of Venice's reach with a couple of key baskets by Rucker with just over two minutes left.

Bunker Hill then made six of eight free throws in the final 1:18 of the game to ensure the victory.

"We're starting to get now," Hlaska said. "This is the kind of team we have to beat to prove ourselves later in the season. We might have to face Venice, Madison or Lovejoy later in the season, so it's good for us to get a win."

Hlaska, who has won more than 400 games at Bunker Hill and was recently named to the Illinois Basketball Hall of Fame, has led the Minutemen to a 19-0 record so far this season.

Hlaska admitted Venice was the best team the Minutemen has faced this year, but he wouldn't admit that his team is tougher than previous Bunker Hill teams.

"It's hard to say how good we are. We definitely have five good shooters," Hlaska said.

The winner of the DuPage regional could possibly face Bunker Hill in the sectional tournament in March.

Watts and Eddie Salmond led Venice with 18 points each. In addition to Rucker's scoring, Harper scored 15 points and Sauerwein added 11 points for the Minutemen.

Venice picks apart Worden 77-20; 5-0 in IGC

WORDEN — The Venice Red Devils picked apart hapless Worden Thursday 77-20 in an Illini-Gateway Conference game.

Worden, winless in the last two seasons, had little chance against a more powerful Red Devil squad. Venice outscored Worden 16-8 in the first quarter and shut out the Trojans in the second period 24-0.

After that, it was smooth sailing for the Red Devils as everyone had a chance to play.

William Watts led Venice with 20 points. Philip White added 16 points and Eddie Salmond scored 46 points for the Venice.

The Red Devils are currently 5-0 in the conference. Venice travels to Edwardsville Tuesday to play Metro-Burglars broke a glass pane in the front door to enter and ransack the home of Ed Kube, 1934 Grand Ave. Items valued in excess of $870 were stolen last week.

All rooms, closets, cabinets and drawers had been searched, with the intruders leaving through a rear door, which was left open.

Reports seeing wanted man, gets arrested

Wayne S. Reyes, 29, of Chicago, met with an officer in a service station lot at Nameoki and Johnson Roads last week to report having seen a man wanted by police at a nearby lounge.

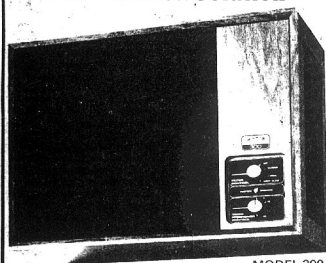

Reyes recognized the man from an official photograph he had seen displayed in the Venice Post Office, he related.

The officer first ran a check on Reyes and discovered that Reyes was being sought on an active warrant alleging felony theft, issued by authorities in Jackson County, Ill. He was taken into custody.

Officers also checked on a man seated in a nearby lounge, to whom Reyes had referred. The alleged fugitive was not being sought by authorities, they learned.

Jackson County police officials were contacted and Reyes remained in custody Tuesday, pending transfer to their jurisdiction.

Bazaar chairmen are appointed

Mrs. Ginger Hayes, president of St. Elizabeth's Society, appointed Linda Logan and Marsha Blankenship to serve as co-chairmen of the annual Christmas bazaar during the January business meeting of the organization. The fund-raising project is scheduled for Nov. 5 from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and workshops will begin soon to prepare for the event, the president noted.

Members met Tuesday at the church cafeteria with the Rev. Henry Schmidt giving the opening prayer. Two new members, Pat Woodard and Darla Whaley, were enrolled and introduced by the president. She also announced the next blood drive at the church will be in July and urged all to participate in the project.

In other business it was announced the mens communion breakfast will be on Sunday, Jan. 30 following each Mass. Also the Church Women United Meeting on Feb. 18 at Nameless United Presbyterian Church is set for 1 p.m. following the theme of "Share Your Talent."

In other business a card party event was discussed with final details to be announced at a later meeting.

A program on stenciling was presented by Pam Docter and Kim Harrison.

Additionally, a representative of the Redken Company introduced a new type of temporary coloring called "scandalizing," a method of painting streaks of various colors on hair.

The meeting agenda also featured a workshop on competition styling, the local hairstylists reported.

Boy Scouts winter camping adventure

The first snowfall of the year arrived in time for the Boy Scout Troop 7 members departure for a Lions Den winter camping adventure at Camp Blue Sky near Imperial, Mo.

Winter-camping survival was the theme for the event and activities included a "three seconds to think" tournament which required the scouts to think and then demonstrate the proper emergency procedure for various accidents.

The second day included making a winter survival shelter with snow, fire making in the snow and a daylight snow hike.

Survival traps and a search and rescue activity was the program for the third day. Other plans included a Saturday night tracking hike, a swimming session and a tournament. Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Kevin Williamson planned and directed the projects while Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Steve Kusnierczak gave swimming instructions. Enroute home from the Lions Den the scouts observed the 12th point of the scout law by attending the evening Mass at the New Cathedral in St. Louis.

Providing transportation for the boys and their equipment were Larry Williamson Sr., Steve Kusnierczak Sr. and Robert Hagen. Also attending was Larry Williamson Jr. The next overnight event will be in February during Scout Weekend Retreat at Holy Family Seminary, St. Louis, it was announced.

YMCA hosts sleepovers for children 6 to 12

"Are you tired of spending your evenings at home on Friday evenings?" asks David Femrite, executive director of the Tri-City Area YMCA. "Come join the fun at the YMCA for sleepovers the second and fourth Fridays of every month through May 1983. The YMCA is holding sleepovers for any girl or boy, ages 6 through 12," he noted.

The program is supervised by Natalie Buster and her staff. These sleepovers begin at 7 p.m. and last until 8 a.m. Only 75 children will be able to attend each sleepover. Reservations are on a first-come first-served basis. A child may attend one or all of the sleepovers. Registration deadlines are three days in advance.

Cost for the sleepover is $6 per child. "The sleepovers will be a fun night of games, volleyball, swimming, movies, snacks, relays and surprises. Children are reminded to bring a swimming cap, swimming suit, towel, sleeping bag and pillow," Femrite advised.

Parents should be sure that all items are labeled when children stay for the evening. There will be certified lifeguards on duty in the pool area at all times. For further information, parents may contact the YMCA at 876-7290.

SIUE professor involved in Washington, D.C., program

Jack G. Shaheen, professor of mass communications at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was involved in two major discussions of media problems in the Middle East, yesterday and today, in Washington, D.C.

"Israeli and Arab Images in the Middle East Media" was the topic addressed by Shaheen yesterday in the third of a series of lectures at the Arlington-Palmer Jewish Congregation. Today, Shaheen was the principal commentator in a discussion entitled "The Mideast Media: Reporting and Self Images." The occasion was a luncheon at the Carnegie Conference Center, under the auspices of "Face to Face," a program designed to improve understanding of international issues through direct communications. The program was jointly sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the American Foreign Service Association.

Shaheen is a former Fulbright lecturer at the American University in Beirut and the University of Jordan in Amman.

Closing of underpass fails to reduce traffic on bridge

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

There was surprisingly little decrease in the number of vehicles using the McKinley Bridge during the past six months, despite the Venice underpass on Broadway, leading to Illinois Route 3 and the bridge, being closed since mid-July, Venice aldermen were advised at the regular meeting of the Venice City Council.

Major repairs and extensive improvements to the underpass subsurface drainage system were completed last week and it was reopened to vehicular traffic Thursday, Jan. 20.

"We are delighted to see the underpass open once again and I hope it will last this time," Venice Mayor Echols commented at the meeting.

Bridge Manager Tom Fields said that, although he half expected to see some drop in the traffic load during the period of time when the underpass was closed, very little decrease actually was noted. "In fact, we show a little bit of increase over last year's figures," he added.

During December, 1982, a daily average of 10,791 vehicles crossed the McKinley Bridge, or a total of 334,321 for the 31-day period.

The figures show an average increase of 322 vehicles per day as compared to December, 1981.

A campaign to encourage use of the bridge now is going on, Mayor Echols reported.

Third Ward Alderman John Ervin suggested investing in several signs for placement on Interstate 270, from Interstate 55 to Illinois Route 3, publicizing Route 3 and the McKinley Bridge as the shortest way to St. Louis.

"It may cost us some money for the signs, but there's a lot of traffic going all around I-270 and across the river to get to St. Louis," the alderman stated.

Engineers from CATV Cable System, headquartered in New York, were in the community last week, Mayor Echols said, and indicated the possibility of firm going underground with the cable.

"There's some concern about the stormy weather here and I understand that underground cable could cut installation by half the time or even less," he explained. "I think there is some delay with the power company, something to do with identifying which poles CATV was going to use for the cable. Going underground could alleviate a lot of that where this is concerned," he added.

First Ward Alderman Phil Daniels questioned whether an extension of time must be allotted, should the company not complete the installation within a given period.

Mayor Echols said he believed there is a date, but noted that the firm was required to post a $15,000 performance bond upon the contract being signed, which could be revoked.

When a non-exclusive franchise was awarded by the council to CATV last August, the contractual agreement included the city's right to forfeit the franchise and terminate the agreement for specific reasons after 30 days notice is given to the cable company.

The firm must be granted a hearing and allowed time for corrections to be made prior to the agreement being dissolved.

Another prerequisite established by the council in the ordinance was establishment in Venice of either the cable service business office or a head-in-tower.

Mayor Echols said the engineers visiting last week looked at the top of the City Hall building as a possible site for the cable TV tower.

"Or, they may have to build a small building," he reported.

United Way completes allocations to agencies

Due to the efforts to many volunteer workers and vice-chairmen the Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign for 1983 topped its goal of $625,000 by $3,179, which has been disbursed to 16 United Way member agencies.

Announcement of the budgeted monies was made at the annual dinner meeting of the United Way, held at Charlie's Restaurant.

Allocations totaling $615,093 have been made to the following agencies: Alpha Center for Women, Inc., $6,420; Alcohol Rehabilitation Community Home, $25,000; Tri-City Chapter American Red Cross, $70,000; The Arthritis Foundation, Central Illinois Chapter, $3,960; Cahokia Mound Council Boy Scouts of America, $67,000; Quad-Cities Catholic Charities, $74,607; Children's Home &

Tests offer college credit

Registration for Advanced Placement (AP) examinations currently is in progress at both Granite City High School, North, and South. Students may register with Dr. William Breidenbach at North and Mrs. Sonya Adkerson at South schools.

Advanced Placement exams provide high school students an opportunity to earn college credit without enrolling in a college course. AP exams are administered at the high school level while CLEP and other exams are administered at the college level. Students who are confident they have learned the subject material may desire to earn credit by one of these exam programs.

The high school AP exams are given the third week of May. Fee for each AP exam is $10. Reductions in fees may be made if low income can be verified.

The following are available: art, biology, chemistry, English language and composition, English literature and composition, French, German, Spanish, American history, European history, Latin, calculus AB, music and physics.

Before taking the exams, students should contact AP coordinators at each school and inquire if the college will provide AP credit for college courses.

Students also may want to know what AP grade is acceptable for credit.

Legislation would mandate identifying rebuilt cars

Secretary of State Jim Edgar said he will have legislation introduced this session to protect buyers of used cars by requiring that vehicle titles are clearly marked "rebuilt" when a vehicle has been substantially repaired after an accident.

"The goal of this legislation is to protect unsuspecting used car buyers. With today's economy and the cost of many new cars in the $10,000 range, used car purchases are soaring. As a result, the chance of buying a vehicle that has serious mechanical defects that are not detectable, except through a thorough inspection," Edgar said.

"This legislation will require the title of a vehicle that has been salvaged at any time in the past be marked 'rebuilt' to warn a potential purchaser that it had been in a serious accident and that it may have serious mechanical defects that are not detectable, except through a thorough inspection," Edgar said.

The Secretary of State's Department of Police recently obtained federal mail fraud convictions of several Illinois automobile dealers who had salvaged vehicle titles laundered through other states.

"The convictions were the first obtained since Illinois began printing 'SV' on the titles of salvaged vehicles in 1980. The 'SV' designation is recognizable to law enforcement officials and most dealers in Illinois, but car buyers and out-of-state motor vehicle authorities are, for the most part, unaware of its significance," Edgar said.

Edgar said numerous customers of the convicted dealers had no knowledge the vehicles were rebuilt. Many of the vehicles were later found to have serious defects not easily detectable.

Many of the buyers of these cars were misled because the bodywork in almost all cases was excellent, but in many cases the cars had bad brakes, faulty steering, substantial transmission problems or extensive frame damage.

Edgar's Department of Police has evidence that at least 1,000 vehicles have been involved in "salvage washes" in Illinois, he said.

In such cases, the Illinois dealer purchases the vehicle with a salvaged vehicle title from an insurance company. The company has purchased the vehicle, which it considers too seriously damaged to repair, from one of its customers.

The insurance company then applies for a salvaged vehicle title, which cannot be used to operate the vehicle. During the four to six weeks when the vehicle is being rebuilt by the Illinois dealer, the salvaged vehicle title is sent to a conspiring out-of-state dealer, whose state has no special designations for vehicle titles. The Illinois title is submitted to the motor vehicle authority and a "clean" title is obtained from that state.

The "clean" out-of-state title is sent back to the Illinois dealer, who applies for an Illinois title or sells the vehicle with the "clean" out-of-state title. During the process, the vehicle never changes hands.

A computer edit check initiated in January, 1982, which is keyed to the vehicle's identification number (VIN), will automatically print the "SV" designation on any vehicle's title that was salvaged or junked at any time in the past.

The computer edit also flags the vehicle so an investigation can be conducted.

"The computer identification system is the first of its kind in the country and has greatly assisted my office's ability to detect salvaged vehicle fraud," Edgar said.

The computer program is significant since the secretary of state's office processes 12,000 to 15,000 titles each day. The Department of Police physically inspects 75,000 suspicious titles each month.

When a title is mailed to the new owner or the financial institution involved, the Secretary of State's office sends a card explaining the significance of the "SV" on the title.

"By clearly marking the title on such vehicles 'rebuilt,' there will be additional protection for buyers of these vehicles," Edgar said.

Only a handful of states brand vehicle titles of stolen cars as salvaged or rebuilt status of the vehicle. Edgar has and will continue to urge other states to adopt similar titles to protect unsuspecting consumers and prevent interstate "salvage wash" transactions.

Edgar said his Department of Police will continue such investigations. A number of Illinois dealers are currently under surveillance.

"It appears that we are just scratching the surface in detecting this kind of fraud, so we will continue with all available manpower and computer resources to protect unsuspecting consumers and prevent interstate 'salvage wash' transactions."

Probation for 2 in marijuana case

Phillip Fitzhugh has been fined $420 and $42 costs, ordered to make restitution of $420 and placed on two-year probation for delivery of between 10 and 30 grams of cannabis (marijuana) Sept. 14.

Fitzhugh has been placed on two-year probation for possessing 30 to 500 grams of cannabis the same day. He resides at 4027 Old Alton Road.

Circuit Judge P. J. O'Neill presided. Guilty pleas were submitted Dec. 21.

BURGLARY PROBATION, FINE AND JAIL TERM

Donald Dermott, 18, of 1028 Delmar Ave. has been fined $500 plus $50 costs, ordered to serve in the Madison County jail for 90 days and placed on probation for three years.

An original charge of residential burglary occurring on May 15, 1982, was amended to burglary. His plea was submitted in October and the sentence was announced later by Circuit Judge Philip Rarick.

IN CELEBRATION OF TEN YEARS OF SAFE, LEGAL ABORTION SAVING WOMEN'S LIVES

Everyone knows someone who faces the choice of abortion. Aren't you glad it's a safe one?

On January 22, 1973, the U.S. Supreme Court established a uniform, rational basis for abortion legislation, recognizing individual choice as a constitutional guarantee.

So ended the horrors of back-alley butchery and desperate attempts to self-abort that claimed the lives of HUNDREDS of women each year and caused serious, often permanent health damage to HUNDREDS of THOUSANDS more.

Now, abortion is safe and legal — but it won't be for long without YOUR help.

Anti-abortion forces have already succeeded in eliminating choice for low income women by stopping Medicaid coverage for abortion procedures — regardless of circumstances.

They have been successful in imposing unreasonable restrictions through state laws.

AND, they are trying to amend the Constitution to make ALL abortions in ALL circumstances ILLEGAL — FOREVER.

Persons who need forms can write the Illinois Department of Revenue at Box 3545, Springfield 62708.

Other questions can be answered through the regional offices or by phoning the Chicago or Springfield offices. Phone lines are open between 7 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Sewer committee awaits map to detach some properties

Members of the Madison County Sanitary Sewer Special Service Area One Committee are accustomed to lengthy meetings, so last week they received a rest with a brief meeting that covered correspondence and bills.

Lift station 8G also was discussed and Gene Futch, sewer system superintendent, told the committee that problems there have been corrected.

The committee gave approval for preparation of a map that will designate areas to be removed from the service area, according to a tax abatement act.

Consideration also was given to a pending lawsuit involving Nameoki Township and S.M. Wilson & Co., the county's sewer contractor. At its last meeting, the county board approved a resolution requesting that Attorney Alan Walker represent the service area on the lawsuit, since he has provided counsel for S.M. Wilson regarding similar claims.

Irvin C. Slate Jr., service area attorney, assured the committee he will work with Walker on the case, if he is needed.

While the suit involves Nameoki Township and the contractor, Slate said, "It is really against the sewer district."

In closing the meeting, Futch reported on a meeting he had with Charles Juneau, the service area engineer.

Futch said that Juneau has provided updated charts to show the locations of the various lift stations.

Disaster aid deadline Feb. 11

The deadline for Illinois disaster victims to file applications for government housing, grant or loan programs is Friday, Feb. 11. Federal Coordinating Officer Robert E. Connor and State Coordinating Officer Eric Jones announced.

"Applications for the Individual and Family Grant Program, Housing Assistance and the Small Business Administration Physical Disaster Loan Program must be submitted on or before the deadline," Connor and Jones said. "Applications cannot be accepted after Feb. 11."

The deadline is set at 60 days following the Presidential Disaster Declaration. Twenty-two Illinois Counties were declared major disaster areas by President Reagan on Dec. 13, as the result of flooding along the Illinois River and a tornado which struck in New Baden.

Persons with questions about the disaster assistance programs still may call the Illinois Flood Help Hotline, 1-800-252-9457. The hotline will continue to operate through Feb. 11 deadline.

NAMES CHURCH TO COUNTY BOARD

Bob Churchich of Alton has been selected to replace the late S. Harold "Cotton" Roberts as the Madison County Board member representing District 10.

Churchich is police chief of Hartford and a life-long resident of Alton. His appointment was approved at this month's board meeting after he was chosen by Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City to fill the remainder of Mr. Roberts' term.

Churchich also will serve on the county's license and health institutions committees.

State tax & Circuit Breaker forms offered

Other state income tax forms and schedules can be obtained by writing to the Illinois Department of Revenue, Box 3545, Springfield, Ill. 62708, and specifying the forms needed.

Revenue department officials expect more than 4.8 million Illinoisans to file state income tax returns this year. The deadline for filing is midnight Friday, April 15. Senior and disabled citizens have until Dec. 31, 1983, to submit their Circuit Breaker claim forms to the state in order to receive property tax and additional tax relief.

Shambro receives state prison term as well as federal terms

Michael J. Shambro, 34, of 4033 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach, has been sentenced to six years in an Illinois state prison for delivery of a controlled substance.

He was sentenced this winter by Circuit Judge Philip Rarik on a guilty plea submitted Nov. 17 to a charge filed July 7, 1982. Date of the offense was not listed.

The charge was filed by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois (Megs).

Judge Rarik dismissed three other July 7 controlled substance delivery allegations against Shambro.

Earlier in November, U.S. District Judge William Beal ordered concurrent seven-year federal prison sentences for Shambro on two counts of heroin delivery and one count of cocaine delivery.

In other federal actions in November, Leon Sanasarian, 49, Granite City, received concurrent seven-year sentences on three delivery counts; Robert E. Lee, 33, Granite City, six years for attempted distribution; Mark Hill, 30, Granite City, concurrent four-year terms on two delivery counts; and Gary Barnhart, 24, Granite City, two years for a drug delivery. All had been targeted in a July 1982 arrest sweep after a "sting" operation spanning several months; 43 persons were arrested in the "sting."

Hill and Barnhart last week sought dismissal of Madison County charges against them but the motions were refused by Circuit Judge P. J. O'Neill.

They argued that their trial has been unduly delayed because the federal government would not turn them over to the county. O'Neill joined State's Attorney Don Weber and Public Defender William Kinder in criticizing federal authorities for refusing to temporarily transfer the prisoners.

Hill is at a federal prison in Indiana and Barnhart is at the U.S. prison in Marion, Ill. Both were charged with distributing methamphetamine.

Weber said he wants to prosecute them on state charges, but that federal officials are refusing to honor writs of habeas corpus and are insisting on additional "paper work" before they transfer Hill and Barnhart.

Judge O'Neill said the county trial delays are the fault of the federal government.

In rejecting dismissals, he granted continuances but went on record as saying "this is the first time the government has failed to cooperate and have defendants here."

An unrelated case, Christopher Carter, 24, Madison, has been charged with delivering cannabis to Terry Wilson, 27, Madison, on Dec. 9.

Rook was shot fatally in the head later that day and was sentenced to two years of probation and fined $2,000 plus $200 costs by Judge O'Neill.

The sentence was noted on records of four allegations of controlled substance delivery. The Davis offenses occurred Jan. 8, Jan. 20 and Feb. 16, 1982.

OBSERVES DRIVER, PACES CHARGES

Madison police arrested Robert I. Dixon, 33, of 1715 Collinsville Ave., last week, after allegedly observing him drive erratically at a high rate of speed at Market Street and Alton Avenue.

Dixon was stopped in front of his home and police said he could not produce a driver's license. It was then found the Dixon was wanted on an outstanding warrant for failure to pay the sign on a conviction for failure to yield the right-of-way at an intersection. He also was charged with careless driving and will be released on $97 cash bond.

Blood Drive Friday at St. Elizabeth

A Red Cross Blood Drive, sponsored by St. Elizabeth Medical Center, will be conducted on Friday, Feb. 4, from 11 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. in Pascual Hall.

Quad-City residents are being asked to donate blood which will take about one hour. Most of the blood collected is used to provide platelets for patients, according to the announcement.

Platelets aid patients with serious injuries, those with clotting problems and those receiving chemotherapy treatments due to cancer.

Donors should be between the ages of 17 and 65 and have no history of hepatitis, cancer or heart disease. Persons 66 and older need the written consent of their physician, dated within four weeks.

Free parking is available. Donors may have their garage parking tickets validated by the nurse after giving blood. For more information, donors may call 798-3028.

PATCHING PRIVATE LOT. Employees of the Nameoki Township Highway Department spent last Tuesday and Wednesday patching holes in the parking lot of Gaslight Plaza Shopping Center, where Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs operates the Pizza Pit Restaurant (a sign for the restaurant is at the top of the photo). Some township trustees say they plan to oppose payment of the bill of nearly $1,000 for the almost 32 tons of asphalt used on the private lot. Briggs said he did not request the work and Highway Commissioner Frank Mabelec told him the work was done on a 180-foot state right-of-way to protect motorists and Bi-State buses, which use the parking lot to turn around. Briggs said Friday that Illini Federal has agreed to pay for the asphalt, but not the manpower.

Seize 50 pounds of cannabis; jail term

Billy Joe Creek, 31, of 1916 Fourth St., E. Madison, has been sentenced to six months in the Madison County jail and placed on 30 months of probation on two cannabis charges—possession and delivery.

On the delivery count, he also was fined $5,847 and $394 costs. The possession charge mentioned 30 to 500 grams.

The mid-winter sentencing by Circuit Judge Philip R. Rarkick followed filing of the charges Aug. 25 and guilty pleas Nov. 14.

Creek was arrested in late August after Illinois Department of Criminal Investigation (DCI) agents told of seizing 50 pounds of cannabis (marijuana) at his home during a raid.

A DCI agent the previous evening had purchased marijuana from Creek at his home, records say. A search warrant was issued and agents returned to the residence Aug. 24; he was not at home when the search was conducted.

Later in the day, he was arrested when seen leaving a pawn shop after a gun transaction.

Featuring narration by Billy Graham and Cliff Barrows, the film weaves together scripture passages, great works of religious art, music, and some color footage filmed in the Holy Land.

World Wide Pictures, the producer of The Living World, is the film ministry of the Billy Graham organization. Among the company's other releases are the award-winning The Hiding Place, and the recent film, Joni, which star Joni Eareckson, a quadriplegic, as herself.

Five-year prison term in drug case

Circuit Judge Philip Rarkick sentenced James D. Murphy, 18, of 1816 S. 10th St., to a five-year state prison term for possession of 500 grams of cannabis.

The City of Madison filed the charge Aug. 25 and he pleaded guilty Nov. 29.

In the same case, Rarkick sentenced Timothy Murphy, 20, to two-year probation for possessing 500 grams of cannabis. Both defendants reside at 2631 Missouri Ave.

TRUCK STOLEN
A white 1977 Chevrolet three-quarter-ton truck, belonging to Donald Adams, Rural Route Two, Box 791, was stolen from the Blast Furnace parking lot on Edwardsville Road, the city reported 11 p.m. Friday. The four-wheel drive vehicle was equipped with a dump bed and had a snowplow attached, he said.

1,500 new jobs at Chrysler Plant 2

Chrysler Corp. on Thursday announced plans to spend $55 million and create 1,500 new jobs to produce the 1984 version of the Chrysler New Yorker Fifth Avenue and other rear-wheel-drive models in the company's 184,000-sq-ft plant in St. Louis Assembly Plant Number 2.

Gerald Greenwald, vice chairman of Chrysler, said the state of Missouri's commitment to a financial incentive package and a unique UAW agreement make St. Louis Assembly Number 2 an efficient and innovative model plant were instrumental in bringing the production program to St. Louis.

Greenwald made the announcement at a news conference with Christopher Bond, governor of Missouri, at the plant site.

Chrysler, he said, will start immediately renovating the 1,402,671-sq-ft plant to prepare for rear-wheel-drive production next September.

The facility is next to Chrysler's St. Louis Assembly Plant Number 1, which has 2,600 employees and produces 1983 front-wheel-drive Chrysler LeBaron and Dodge 400 two-door coupes and convertibles.

The announcement was the second significant expansion announced by Chrysler in St. Louis area in a month. On Dec. 28, 1982, Greenwald revealed that Chrysler would build the 1984 Dodge pickup and Chrysler Laser sports cars at Plant Number 1, doubling production and adding 1,400 to 1,700 new jobs.

Chrysler will transfer rear-wheel-drive production from the Windsor (Ontario) plant to the new facility, which will shut down next June for a four-month conversion to new front-wheel-drive cars.

Falls out of window rescued from ledge

A man who apparently fell backward from a second story window and grabbed a ledge to avoid falling to the ground, was rescued by Madison police officers and firefighters at 4 a.m. Friday.

Police were first alerted to the incident by a resident, who believed a burglary was in progress, and an officer found a man running through a rear yard in the 1400 block of Second Street.

Upon seeing the officer, the man started screaming, saying his brother had fallen from a window and was hanging by his arms from a ledge and that he was looking for him.

A Madison police sergeant saw the man suspended from a ledge at 201 Madison Avenue. He went inside and grabbed onto Matthew E. Donaldson, 22, of that address, who was called the Madison Fire Department for assistance.

The two officers then held onto Donaldson until firefighters arrived and removed him from the ledge.

The officers noted the man had a broken arm on his right foot and suggested that he go to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for medical attention.

At that point, it was not clear how the man got onto the ledge, reports said.

Donaldson declined to go to the hospital, but was placed in protective custody by an officer and taken to the emergency room anyway.

Donaldson had the strength to pull himself back inside the room and said that he was unable to do it alone, and was looking for help.

None of those in the neighborhood had seen him apparently could be located by officers.

Suit seeks utility tax on cable TV

Granite City has filed a suit in Madison County Circuit Court charging that South-Western Cable TV, Inc., has failed to pay a five percent utility tax first imposed by the city last year as a "telephone tax."

City officials asked the cable company to base the tax on billings to the company's about 1,000 subscribers. Cable users, six months after the tax went into effect. The company, with its main regional office in Maryville, rejected the idea.

Mayor Paul Schuler first introduced the tax as a telephone tax in December, 1981, as part of his comprehensive tax program, intended to pull the city from debt. The tax went into effect Jan. 1, 1982.

David K. Olson, South-Western's controller, said he was not notified by the city until last June that the cable company would be liable for the utility tax. In response to a query, Olson said, the company takes the position that the state law allowing the city to set the tax does not mandate cable to comply. He declined to further explain the company's defense.

Although referred to as a telephone tax before appearing in print in this form, the written text imposes the tax on all businesses "transmitting messages by means of electricity originating within the corporate limits" of the city.

At issue might be exactly where South-Western's "messages" begin. Programs received in Granite City are sent from the city's local studio, 1918 Delmar Ave., through local cable lines. And cable's own franchise with the city requires the company to provide a local origination channel. However, only a handful of cable programs come exclusively from the Granite City studio.

Even the Maryville studio "originates" a limited number of programs itself. Instead, most programs are received from satellite or picked up with more conventional antennas. Those messages, in turn, are amplified and sent by microwave to Granite City's receiving dish.

Last July, a city official estimated the cable tax could add roughly $60,000 to the city's income to the city's coffers. The city now is considering borrowing to meet monthly expenses, and has projected a half-million deficit this fiscal year.

In its suit, the city claims it has been damaged by the loss of revenue from the tax. It has requested the court be ordered to pay five percent of its gross receipts received since June 1, 1982.

Past relationships between the city and South-Western have been stormy, since the city refused last July to approve the cable's request for a basic fee increase of $1 per month. The increase was first submitted to city officials in December, 1981.

The rejection followed "surprise" rate increases in Home Box Office and The Movie Channel, before prior notice was given to city officials, who already were engaged in negotiations with the cable company.

South-Western has the option to bring the rate issue to third-party arbitration, but has, thus far, elected not to do so. Controller Olson said the company still is considering its alternatives on that matter.

The mayor recently appointed a three-alderman ad hoc committee to investigate the on-going problems between the city and cable. His latest concern centers on program changes, which include the dropping of WSUT, produced by the Southern Illinois University Carbondale campus, and CBS Cable, no longer being offered to South-Western.

The company has expanded IESP, a general information program, and C-Span, a public affairs program covering Washington, D.C., and the Congress.

Elderly man's home invaded by robbers

An elderly Venice resident was the victim of a home invasion Saturday in which three men entered his house on the pretext of being utility company workers, took $120 from him for fictitious repairs and then taped him after stealing his wallet, containing between $30 and $40.

Neighbors of Wilson Noble, 83, of 1020 Douglas St., Venice, alerted officers at 11:10 a.m. Saturday upon seeing three men run from his dwelling and get into a yellow 1974 Plymouth, which drove east on Douglas Avenue. The four-door sedan had a white roof and no license plates, they reported.

When Venice officers reached the house, the neighbors had found Mr. Noble standing in the basement with grey duct tape wrapped around his head and mouth and were trying to free him.

The elderly man's hands were bound behind his back and his feet were taped together. He told police that two men came to the door, saying they worked for Illinois Power Co. and that there was a problem with fuses blowing out on a pole nearby. They reported that something must be wrong with the fuse box and they were checking.

He said the pair, which checked different fuses in the house and basement areas, told him that something was wrong with the fuse base, reporting it would cost Mr. Noble $120 to fix it.

The men also said that Illinois Power would deduct the cost of the $120 repair from his monthly utility bill until the sum was paid off. Mr. Noble reported giving the fake workmen $120 and again they went to check the furnace and fusebox in the basement. He said the pair went up and down the

Charge of unlawful restraint dismissed

A charge of unlawful restraint filed Aug. 4 against Gerald G. Moss has been dismissed by Chief Circuit Judge A. A. Madson.

Madson Police Chief Donald Bridick said Friday he said he had Maotesian to reconsider the dismissal.

Moss, 59, of 1639 Sixth St., Madison, was granted dismissal of the Madison police department.

A national trucking executive, Moss is the former owner of the Barn and Plantation dinner theaters in the St. Louis area. He operates the Ill-Pac-Coast Transportation Co. in Madison.

Based on a telephone report that a man just taken two persons from a vehicle at gunpoint in the 500 block of Ewing Avenue and had walked them to the rear of a home on Sixth Street, Chief Bridick, Sgt. Charles Bridick and Patrolman William Weidner responded at 9:40 p.m. Aug. 3.

The sergeant knocked on a rear door and said Moss answered, his attire including a bulletproof vest. The chief alleged seeing a handgun in a trousers pocket.

Asked if he was holding two people, Moss allegedly confirmed it and gave the police permission to enter.

Sgt. Bridick told of seeing a 30-caliber carbine in a wastebasket. It was found to be fully loaded and was handed by the chief to Weidner. Seated at a table in the kitchen were St. Louis private investigator, Ernest L. White, and White's woman friend.

When Chief Bridick told Moss he was under arrest, and tried to remove the handgun, he allegedly resisted, threatened, and cursed him.

The chief asserted that the handgun was almost out of the pocket, with both men gripping it and the gun pointed toward the chief's stomach, the struggle intensified and continued into a bedroom: Moss then took the gun and placed it under a bed pillow.

The suspect declined to go with the officers and ordered them to leave his home. Upon being told force would be used, he telephoned for legal advice and then surrendered, reports allege.

White said he and his companion had been seated in an auto working a surveillance when a man drove a van toward the parked car at high speed with the headlights off.

The lights came on as the van neared, and White began backing his auto, he related, as White approached Ewing Avenue, a west-bound van driver jumped out and pointed a carbine at him while a handgun and nightstick were visible in the driver's pockets.

White said he was asked, "What are you watching me for?" The van then began to leave the car and show identification, the man and woman told the van driver they were looking for the woman's husband.

White alleged that Moss threw onto the street a movie camera with zoom lens, a spotlight, a power pack, a two-way radio and binoculars, and then marched the detective and the woman toward the home, warning of harm if they failed to say why they were watching him. They denied watching Moss.

The van driver continued to question them inside the residence and made two phone calls prior to the arrival of police, the two contended.

Police obtained the filing of the restraint charge by requesting county prosecution. Moss denied any wrongdoing.

The well-to-do businessman has been a political opponent of the current Madison city administration and has encouraged citizen activity and election campaigns.

As the longtime operator of a busy trucking business, he has acted forcefully on occasion to defend what he regarded as his rights and property.

Schools' cost cut decision Tuesday

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

A large attendance is expected at 7:30 a.m. tomorrow when the Granite City Board of Education publicly sets cost reductions that will be effective in June.

Meeting for 3 1/2 hours Friday night and then 3 1/2 hours Sunday afternoon, the board also will consider day and Tuesday evenings.

The board sought to reach a consensus on the schools' proposed program and service changes are likely to be ordered.

Instructional caliber and diversity will be given priority over retention of buildings.

Crowding of classes and buildings will be avoided but occupancy of schools must be increased above the present 80 percent.

Although a school tax election has not been ruled out, Supt. Davis has said it would be inappropriate at a time when 40 percent of the classrooms are being maintained but not used.

A crowd of Oak Ridge Boys fans in Madison, Wis., recently spent the night outside the ticket office to be sure of getting seats for the Oak's show Jan. 23. When the temperature dropped to eight below zero, the office ran extension cords out to the frozen folks to accommodate those with electric blankets.

Bill Hayes, of "Days of Our Lives," wrote a song called "Happy New Year To You," which he and his colleague Robert Clary will introduce on the series. Meanwhile, Hayes and his co-star wife Susan Seaforth Hayes have become the focus of a new daytime TV spin-off now in preparation.

Roy Clark, who was a professional boxer at age 17 and won $50 in a preliminary match, confesses he was 35 years old before he gave up his fantasy of becoming the heavyweight boxing champion of the world. Dave Bellamy of the Bellamy Brothers says he never makes New Year's resolutions because he always breaks them.

just-completed Far East tour got off to a nerve-racking start.

As he and the band began the tour in Hawaii, Lee's wife got on the phone saying a big brushfire was heading for their house in Malibu near Los Angeles. Luckily, the fire spared their home but burned into the back yard.

Ritenour says Singapore was the strangest place because there's a law that says no men with hair over their collars can be in the country. Since his hair was too long for local tastes, Lee and lead vocalist Eric Tagg went to a beauty shop where their hair was sprayed and tucked up.

It still wasn't good enough for a government official who told Ritenour he couldn't play without cutting his locks, but Lee refused and finally played without being sheared.

He's made a New Year's resolution as follows: "I promise to finish my albums quicker and never to cut my hair in Singapore."

Good news and bad news from Jessie Collins.

The good news is that she's been named "Best Female Vocalist of the Year" by the Japanese magazine Punch Weekly.

The bad news is she was the recent victim of a purse snatcher outside her new home in Los Angeles. Luckily she wasn't hurt by the thief.

Exene and her husband John Doe of X starred in a poetry reading at Hollywood's Cathay de Grande Club for the benefit of a hard-pressed literary magazine.

Doe read works on topics including Jean Harlow, Stockton, Calif., and television.

What do you know?
 Not much -- what do you know?
 I want to know what you know.
 I know there is a living thing that is half plant and half animal.
 Is this science fiction?
 No, it's true.
 What do you call this thing?
 Dinoflagellate, a variety of plankton.
 What makes it both plant and animal?
 It manufactures its own food, which makes it a plant, and it has power of locomotion, which makes it an animal.
 Fascinating bit of information -- but what can I do with it?
 Don't you have any friends who always ask, "What do you know?"

Nolte changes his mind

By NANCY ANDERSON

NEW YORK — Before Nick Nolte would consent to play a policeman in "48 Hours," a new Paramount release, he spent three weeks with the San Francisco force learning how, and more to the point, why lawmen do what they do.

"I found out," he says, "that they feel they are among the few professionals who believe they have a function in society."

"Before this film, there was no way in hell I would have played a cop."

Nolte used to think that he and police were in opposition, and to a degree they were. In 1960 or '61, he's not sure which, he was hauled from Los Angeles to Omaha in handcuffs after he faked identification cards "to get into bars."

He received a heavy suspended sentence which shook him up and left him asking himself, "All this to get into a bar?"

In Los Angeles he was sentenced to a month of weekends in "the glass house" for drunk driving.

"LA's not a police force," Nolte judges. "It's a paramilitary outfit. It's the only department with subdivisions in foreign countries."

No, Nick wasn't crazy about cops when he was first asked to play one in "48 Hours," but through his pre-production stay in San Francisco, his opinion of them has improved.

"Usually if you ask somebody why he thinks a man wants to be a policeman, he'll say, 'Because he likes to carry a gun,' or 'Because he wants power.'"

"Well, if that's why a man is a policeman, I didn't want to play one. So I hung out with the San Francisco department to find out how police see their own role in society."

"One thing I found out is that a lot of them had been in trouble in high school."

"They are really caught in a kind of hinterland world. They are the guardians of the gates. We are the innocents."

The cop Nick portrays in "48 Hours" is a maverick and a loner who drives a beat-up, blue Cadillac convertible.

"That was a 'Junior Bonner' car," Nick points out. "We had two of them, and I wanted to buy one when the picture was finished, but they were both wrecked."

Nolte uses a lot more that was Steve McQueen's than the "Junior Bonner" car in the new fast-paced release. He admits it. And he says he also took from John Wayne and Wallace Beery, adding, "I'd love to do a good Beery picture. He was one of my favorite actors."

"48 Hours" isn't quite a parody of old detective movies, "but it's exaggerated realism with a fantasy touch," according to Nick.

The film was a long time a-borning, having been conceived by Roger Spottiswoode in the early 1970s.

Walter Hill, who finally directed it and who, with Spottiswoode, Larry Gross and Steven E. de Souza, gets credit for the writing, says, "It was always a good idea, but it was hard to assemble the right people. It was like being in a floating card game and always looking for the right partner to fill it out."

Clint Eastwood came to mind as a possible hero/anti-hero. He'd play the loner policeman.

Various actors, all white, were considered to play the other leading role, a convict briefly sprung from prison to help close a case.

But nobody was cast.

Then Nolte walked into the office of the president of Paramount to talk about a pair of other projects, "The Last Good Kiss" and "Revenge," and during the encounter was offered "48 Hours."

Since he'd always wanted to work with Hill, he was interested.

Meanwhile Joel Silver, who eventually produced the movie with Lawrence Gordon, had wondered aloud, "How would it be if the convict was black?"

Naturally the instant reaction was to go for Richard Pryor, whose name on a marquee these days is like money in the bank. But Pryor was not to be had, so the role was offered Eddie Murphy, who took it as a means of moving from television to the big screen.

Though Nolte was an experienced actor with stage as well as feature film background, and Murphy had never made a picture in his life, Nick says, "The minute I got with Eddie and looked in his eyes, he was right there."

"If he had a problem, it was that he got bored with a scene quickly."

Nolte, who claims he's only made one film which came to him through his agent, "The Deep," which he can't stand to watch, looks for good scripts wherever they may be.

"Send scripts to me at Paramount," he says, "and I'll get them. Send them to my agent, and I'll never see them."

He committed himself to "48 Hours" more from an outline than a script and, guided by Hill, improvised much of the talk and action.

"Now that I've opened this door, I may open it up a little more," says Nolte. "How about a remake of 'Min and Bill'?"

Now singing his own song

By ROBIN WELLES

HOLLYWOOD — At 6-foot-3 and 195 pounds, he looks like he could play pro football.

But Eddie Rabbitt has been strictly musical since that summer when he was 12 and his Scout master strummed a guitar while the Boy Scouts were on a hike.

"He started playing some Johnny Cash and Bob Willis tunes," Rabbitt recalled. "It was my first time to hear a guitar up close and I was fascinated."

"I asked him if he would teach me to play, and that was the start. But I only learned two chords before he moved out of town, and from there I was on my own."

Hoping to get a song published, Eddie drifted down to Nashville in 1968 and got Roy Drusky to record the appropriately titled, "Working My Way Up to the Bottom." Then he got a job as a $37.50-a-week songwriter for a Nashville publishing firm.

But his big break came when King Elvis heard his "Kentucky Rain," decided to record it, and made a gold record hit out of it.

These days Rabbitt does his own singing of his songs, stealing away to a hideaway for months at a time while he works up a new album. His latest, "Radio Romance" for Elektra, is a breezy pop LP that's a lot of fun to listen to. Eddie now has Big Star status and gets a tad more than $7.50 a week.

DEVO — Oh, No! It's Devo (Warner Bros.) — Kooky quintet from Akron, Ohio, has been around only four years or so but already its signature electronic beat has been widely copied. Devo plays mathematically precise music that it hopes will reverse the world's backward progress. Others argue that Devo retards all progress everywhere, citing nutty costumes, lyrics, etc.
